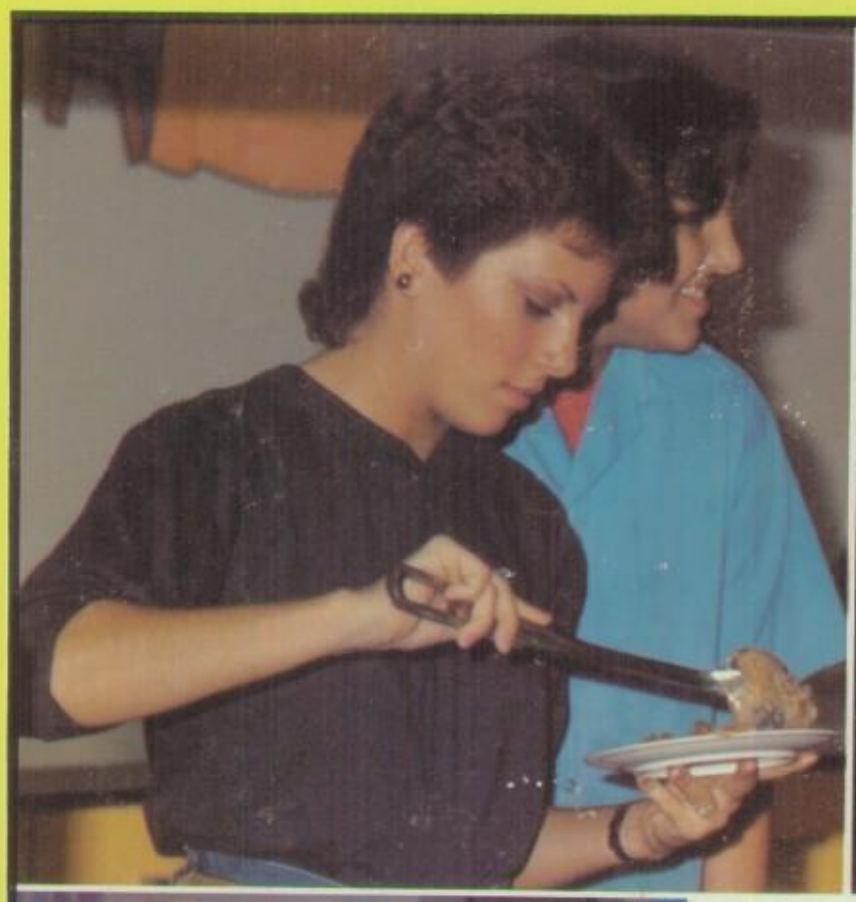
SANDALWOOD JUNIOR-SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

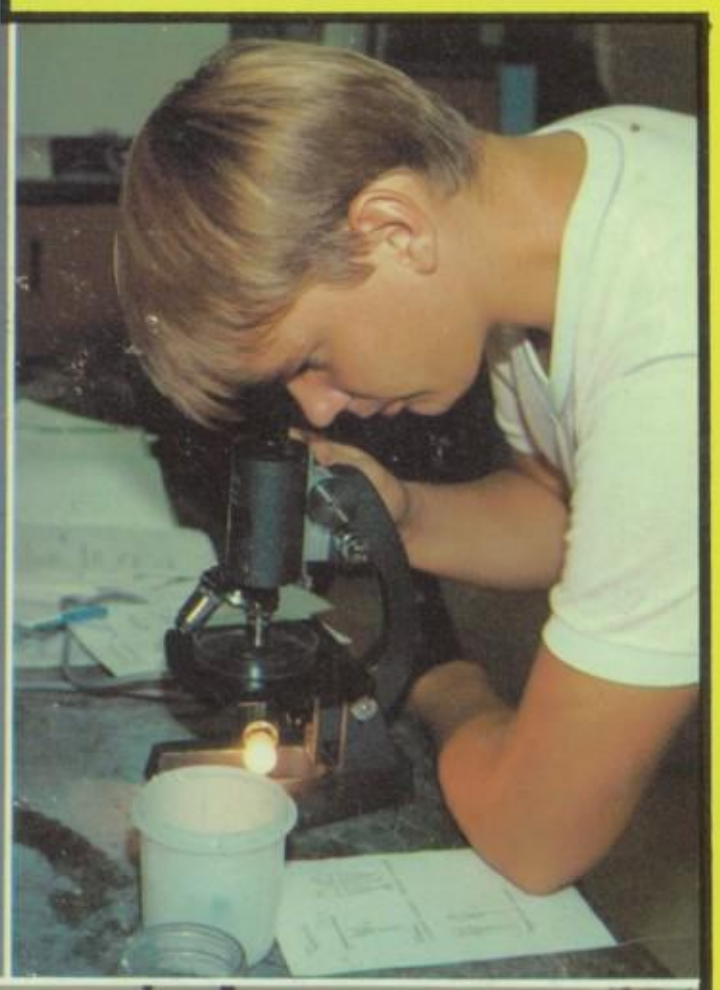
Jacksonville, Florida

Look what's cookin
The Sandalwood special.
Add one cup of blue to one cup of gold,
Pour five cups of spirit, three of hard work,
A dash of ambition, then let that cook.
After a minute, remove from heat.

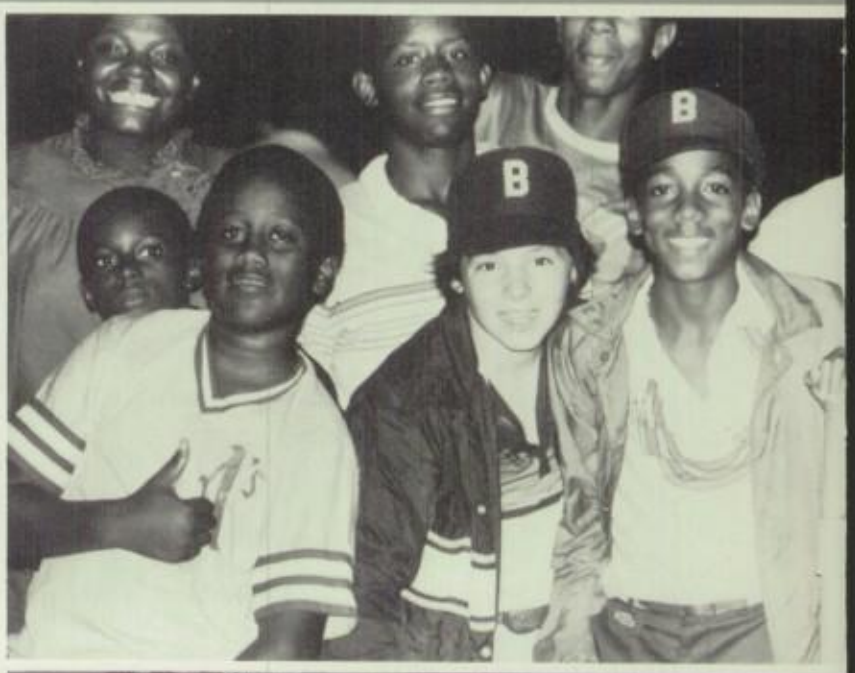
Add homework to flavor
Then lightly beat.
Top with a sprinkle of friends
Before you're through.
You now have a Saint
Home made just for you!



Homemade just for you!

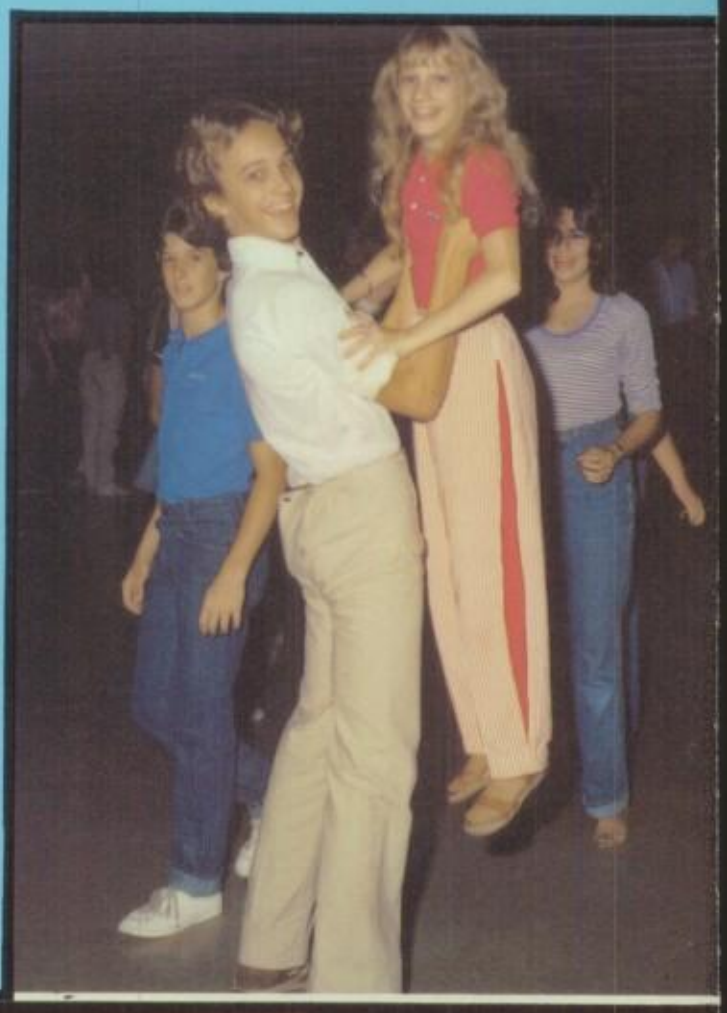


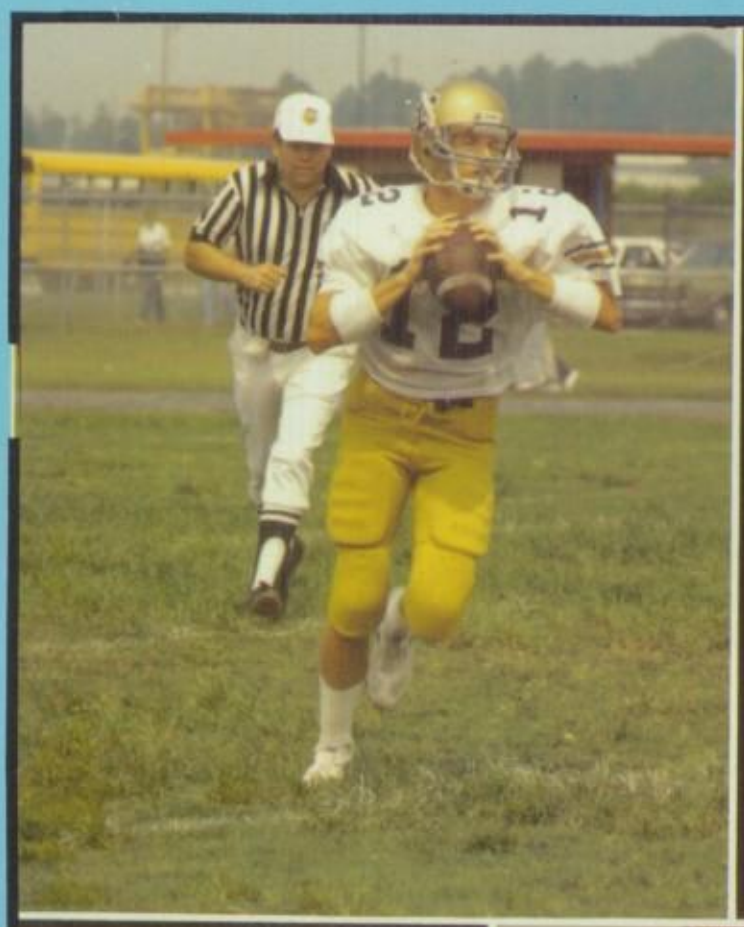
Don't can the enthusiasm,
Don't put a lid on the excitement,
Don't jam the energy,
Just preserve the spirit.

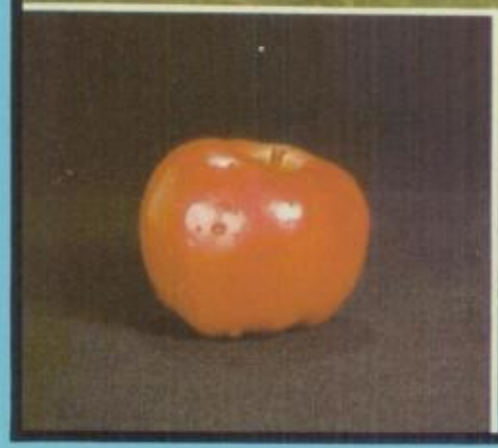


Saints Perserve

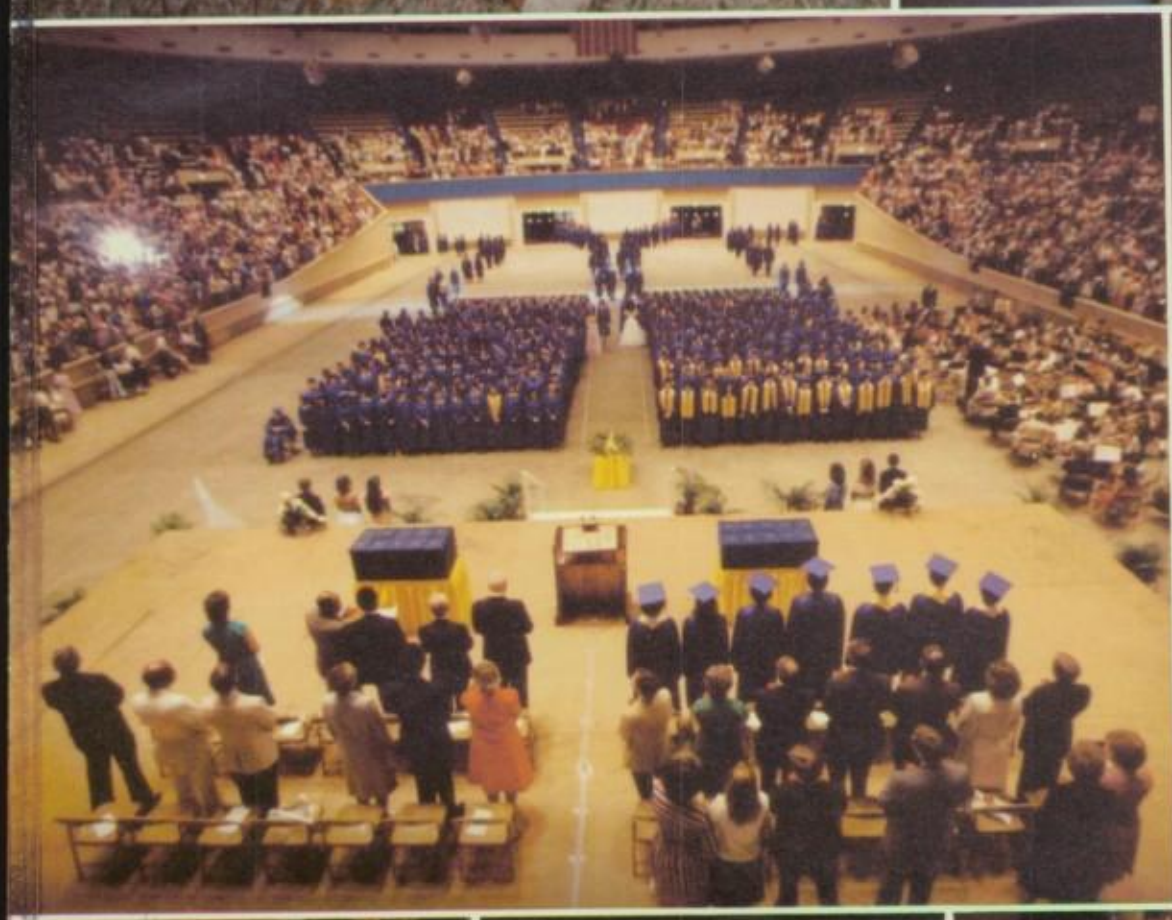
Everywhere . . .
Patchworked ideas,
Moments remembered,
Pictures captured,
That special touch
Only a Saint can give.







Moments remembered



ap•pe•tiz•er n. Anything that excites appetite or gives relish; especially food or drink served before a meal to stimulate the appetite.

How can you resist the appetizers that are found at Sandalwood? Any event, no matter how small is enough to excite the appetite of a spirited Saint. These bite-sized pieces of our year come together to make up one gigantic feast. Everything from spicy Saints' Chant to zesty Powder Puff is served up. But this is only the beginning. The main function of an appetizer is to accent the eager anticipation that precedes a giant meal. Much in the same way, events like Mr. Ugly, and Homecoming stand out as events that have that special touch to highlight our year. These activities, like appetizers, get you motivated for school and increase your appetite for all the good things that happen.

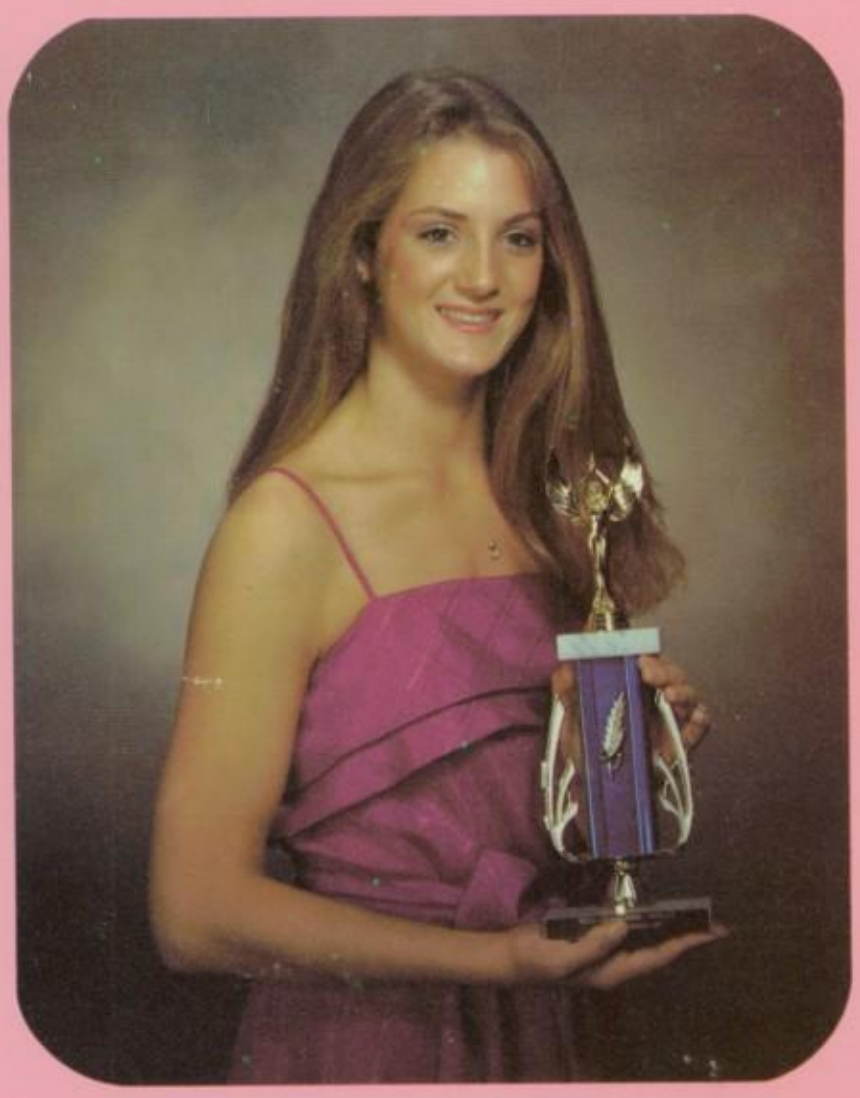
Miss Sandalwood, Teri Youmans

February 11, 1982 was a very exciting and special time for Teri Youmans, as she was crowned and applauded that evening as Miss Sandalwood 1982-83. The packed auditorium responded to the talent presented with thundering applause. Judges for the event had their work cut out for them as girl after girl presented themselves in street wear, evening gowns and talent. Teri received a standing ovation for her creative presentation of a beautiful Judy Garland medley. While Teri walked away with the title, the audience left with unforgettable memories of an event-filled and breath-taking evening.

First Runner-Up, Angie Odham



Second Runner-Up, Loraine Dickinson

Third Runner-Up, Debbie Cochran

Fourth Runner-Up, Patricia Robinson

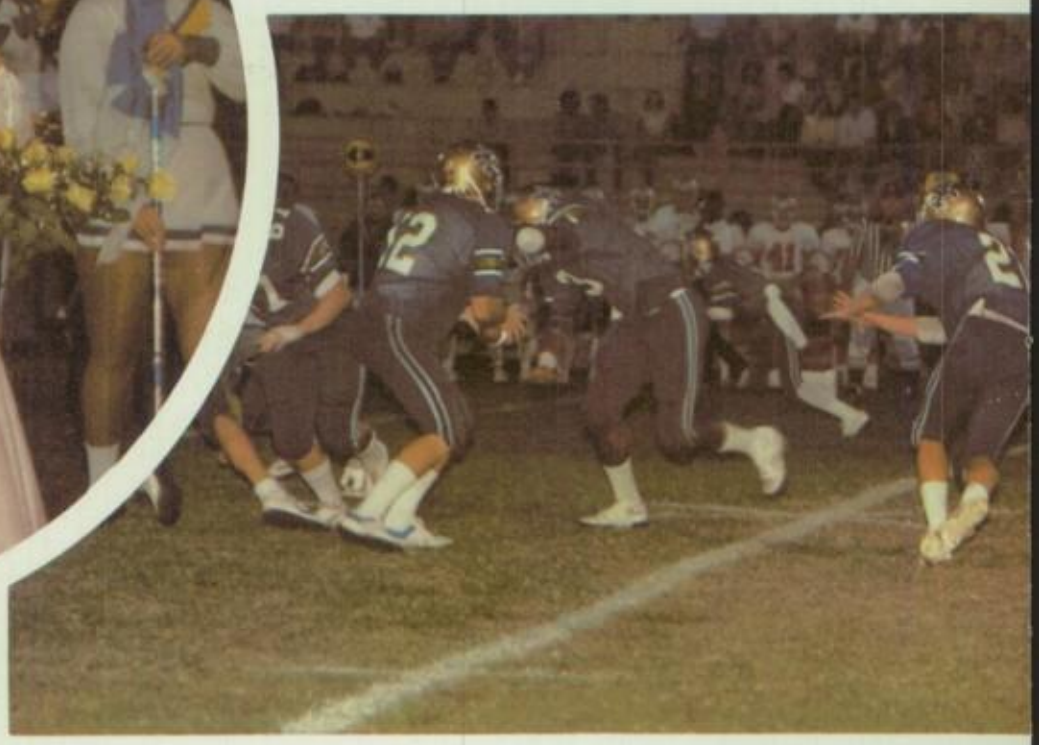
Loraine Dickinson
All American Cheerleader

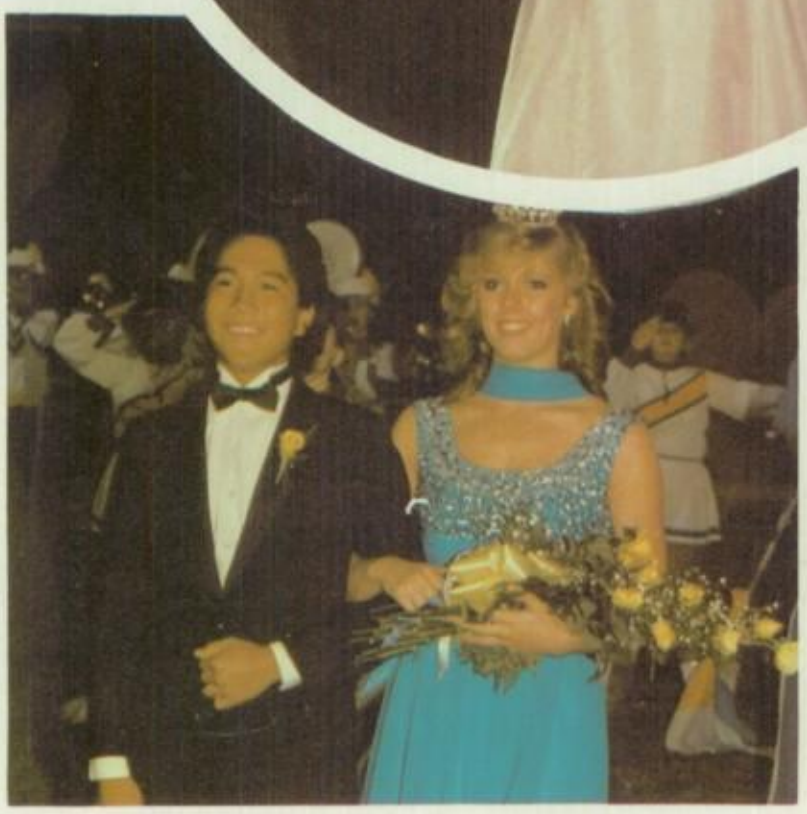
In the summer of 1982, the National Cheerleaders' Association held a summer camp at Jacksonville University. Out of the many cheerleaders participating, one young lady stood out from the rest of the crowd. It is not surprising that Loraine Dickinson, a senior at Sandalwood Junior-Senior High School, and second runner-up to Miss Sandalwood, was selected as All American Cheerleader. Loraine excels in many areas at Sandalwood. She is an active member of the diving team and still finds time to be the Sports Editor of the Sandscript. She is also a member of both the National Honor Society and the Anchor Club at school. Loraine is constantly striving to achieve personal goals, and seeks perfection in everything she does.

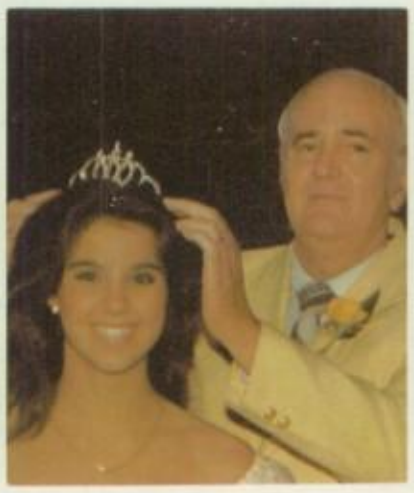
Teri Youmans
Miss Senior High

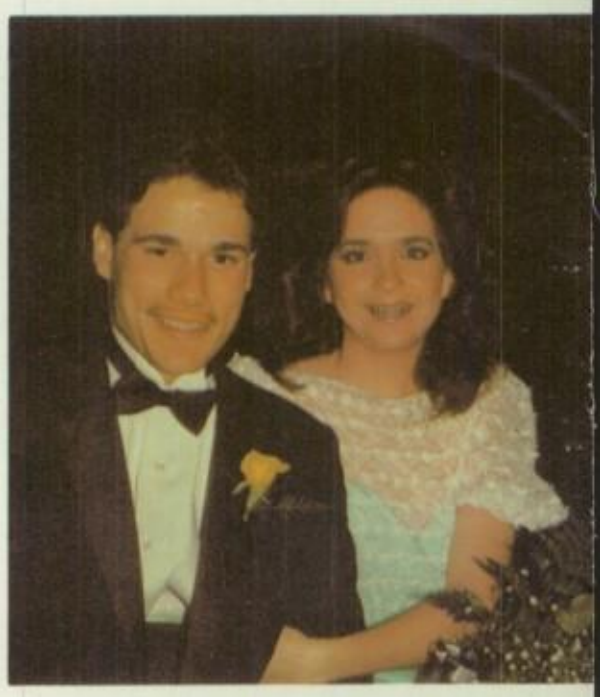
A beaming smile and a cry of excitement came over the face of Teri Youmans as she was crowned Miss Senior High, 1983. The competition was tough as the girls who represented different high schools displayed award winning talents. Teri performed an outstanding Judy Garland medley and displayed her poise and grace. Not only did Teri walk away with the title, but she was voted Miss Congeniality by the other contestants. At Sandalwood, the story is the same . . . Teri is well liked and popular with students and faculty. Her radiant smile and sparkling green eyes tell it all. Teri enjoys being a special part of her school and was proud to represent Sandalwood in the Miss Senior High competition. After the fanfare and lime-light have faded, Teri still remains that nice down-to-earth Sandalwood Saint.

1982-83





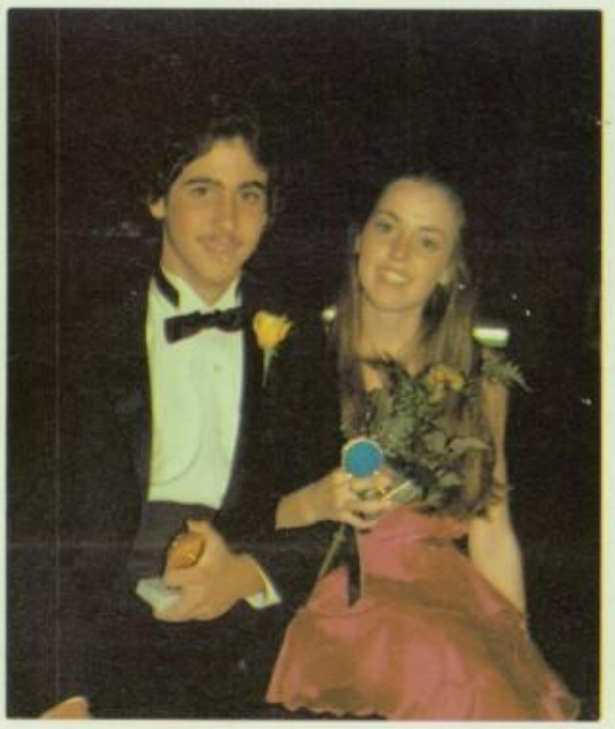




The theme "Wonderful World of Cartoons" was well-liked and favorite cartoons were picked by each club. Teachers and administration, as well as parents and students, joined in the eventful week. To kick off the activities, faculty and students showed their spirit by wearing their "Go Saints" t-shirts. On Tuesday the walls became a showcase of enthusiasm for wall hanging competition, with Interact taking 1st place, NHS taking 2nd, and Anchor taking 3rd.

Cartoon characters roamed the halls on Wednesday, for Favorite Cartoon Day. Friday finally arrived and the parade was just the start of the excitement to come. Anticipation reached a peak as the homecoming king, Brad Hasty, and queen, Debbie Cochran, were crowned and followed by their court; 1st runners up, Bobby Andrews and Timiko Pollard, 2nd runners up, Todd Cleve and Janice Anderson, 3rd runners up, Donald Kitchens and Julie Smith, and 4th runners up, Joey Esposito and Teri Youmans. Winners of float competition were announced as well. Interact placed 1st, 2nd, and Anchor, 3rd. The icing on the cake was the game itself with a score of 21-14. A successful team and spirited school made Homecoming 1982-83 an event not soon to be forgotten. And as Porky Pig says "Th-th-tha-that's all folks."

HOMECOMING



"I tought I taw a putty tat!" said Tweety, but that's not all he saw. Anyone who attended Homecoming saw a mixture of ideas and creativity that brought this year's Homecoming Week to new heights. Students devoted many hours of hard work producing skits, making wall hangings, and constructing floats. The marching band became involved in the festivities by leading the parade and presenting a beautiful half-time show. The crowning of this year's Homecoming Queen was highlighted by an appreciative and applauding crowd. Sandalwood's blue and gold sparkled from the stands. Ingredients such as these made this year's Homecoming the best ever!

SAINTS' CHANT

SAINTS' CHANT

SAINTS' CHANT

SAINTS' CHANT

1982

Held on a Tuesday night for the first time, Saint's Chant was a showcase for Sandalwood's student body. Entertainment ranged from the wild antics of the Blues Brothers (alias: Mike Maddox and Alan MacCurrach) to a surprise performance by Adam and the Ants. Then came the skit competition among clubs, which proved to be the highlight of the evening. First off was Key Club, which placed third, led by a completely wild Claude Tankersley. Key poured out so much energy that the crowd was swept along into dancing the "Time Warp." Next off was Keyette, who did their rendition of life in Smurfville. But the topper of them all was Anchor's cavalcade of cartoon characters. Their spectacular costumes no doubt helped to win the judges' favor, and the audience was amused by the tale of Porky Pig's rescue. Finally, in Saint's Chant tradition, the crowd swarmed on the field and a good time was had by all. Saint's Chant was truly an action-packed evening.

JUNIOR HIGH

Homecoming Princess, Kristy Bryant and Prince Rusty Hixenbough.

Junior High Saints enjoyed a resounding 50-0 victory over the Fletcher Junior High Senators to bring Homecoming "82," to a fun filled ending. Students enjoyed a week with events such as spirit day. A pep rally was held to announce the nominees for homecoming court.

Half-time activities created interest as the homecoming court was presented. The excitement drew to a close as Rusty Hixenbough and Kristy Bryant were crowned the 1982-83 Junior High Homecoming Prince and Princess. Other couples honored were: 1st runners up, Marie Mauricio and Tim Cochran; 2nd runners up, Christy Edwards and Bobby Thomas. Court members consisted of Shawn Holmes, Troy Stevens, Mary Spooner, and Danny Lavite.

Junior High Homecoming "82" blended together all those special ingredients that made the school year exciting. The students and Junior High clubs joined in the parade, making it a joyous moment. Students will remember homecoming always.

The Homecoming Court gets ready for half-time show.

STUDENT RECOGNITION

"Thank You!" The faculty and administration at Sandalwood went all out this year to honor those students who made the honor roll and/or excelled in some aspect of school life. This "student recognition" program treated Sandalwood Saints to cookouts, certificates of merit, and special programs. Letters of congratulations were sent to parents. At Sandalwood, the administration and faculty recognize that student achievement is something to aim for and take pride in. Students in turn, respond to this special treatment with continued success.

BRAIN BRAWL

Facing stiff competition, Sandalwood's Varsity Brain Brawl Team has had a successful season. Members combine good academic backgrounds with hard work and dedication to form the solid foundation of a winning team. Senior members, Steve Doyle and Bobby Garris and returning members, John Sherer and Ferman Fernandez began working in the spring and continued into the fall. September brought the beginning of competition with a match against Paxon. After Christmas, matches were moved from Channel 7 to Channel 12, and Sandalwood remained in the winners bracket.

Junior Varsity members Steve Furches, Lisa Farah, April Hughey, and Brian Cody have brought about an equally successful year. Because of participation in their own matches, the Junior Varsity Brain Brawl Team has helped bring further recognition to Sandalwood's high level of academic achievement. SPECIAL BULLETIN: Both teams are this year's County Champs.

Scholar Bowl is an exciting forum for academically talented students. Spawned by the success of its Senior High counterpart, Brain Brawl, it provides gifted students with the chance to compete with area schools. Mental alertness and speed are necessary characteristics for members of this team. Aside from knowledge already acquired in school, teammates put in many more hours of study in preparation for each match. This extra study serves to give Scholar Bowlers a head start not only on upcoming matches but overall, a head start in life.

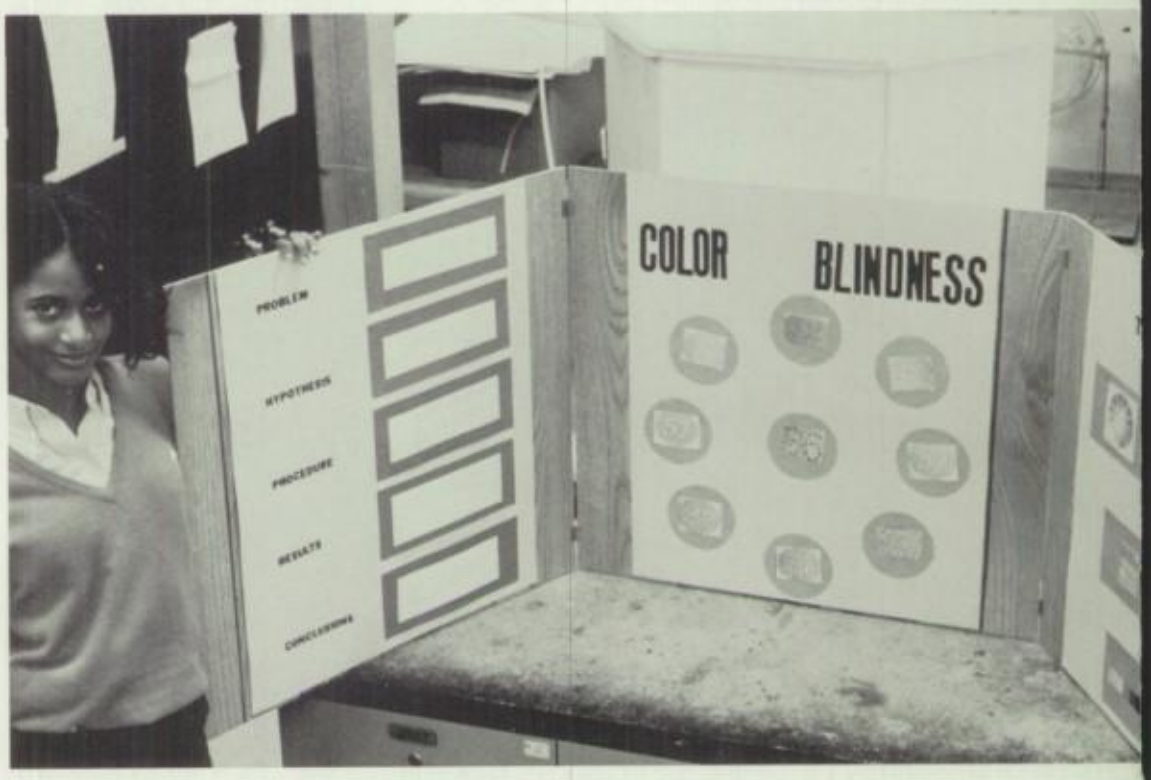
JUNIOR HIGH SCIENCE FAIR



Where would a person find a room full of eager to learn science students? At Sandalwood of course! The Science Fair held here enables students to be creative and to learn at the same time. Students who participate in this annual event have a chance to take an original idea, form a hypothesis about how it works and test by experimentation to see if they are correct. They present their findings in class and to a panel of judges who decide how successfully they have examined their problem. Often they learn that to prove their hypothesis wrong is as acceptable as being "right."

Experiments involve all areas of science and math. Some students continue the same projects from year to year trying new techniques each time; others try totally different areas of interest. Science Fair participation gives students a chance to excel in areas of interest.

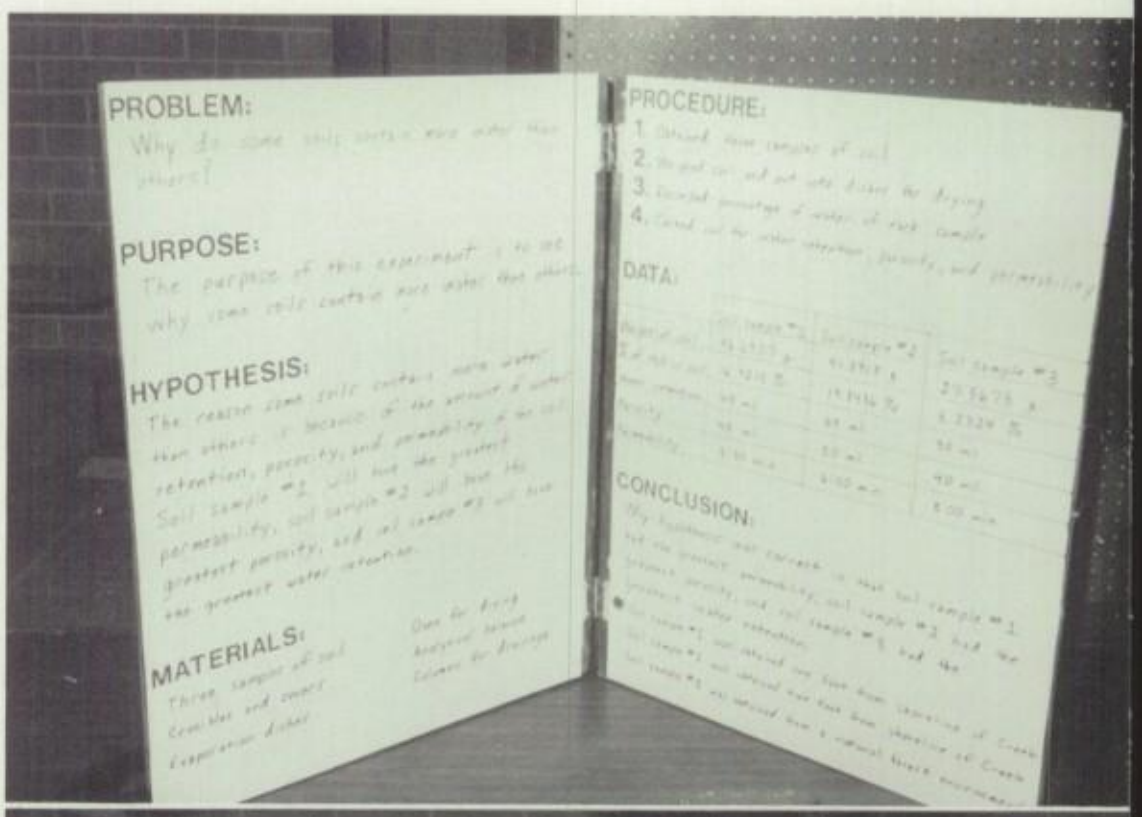
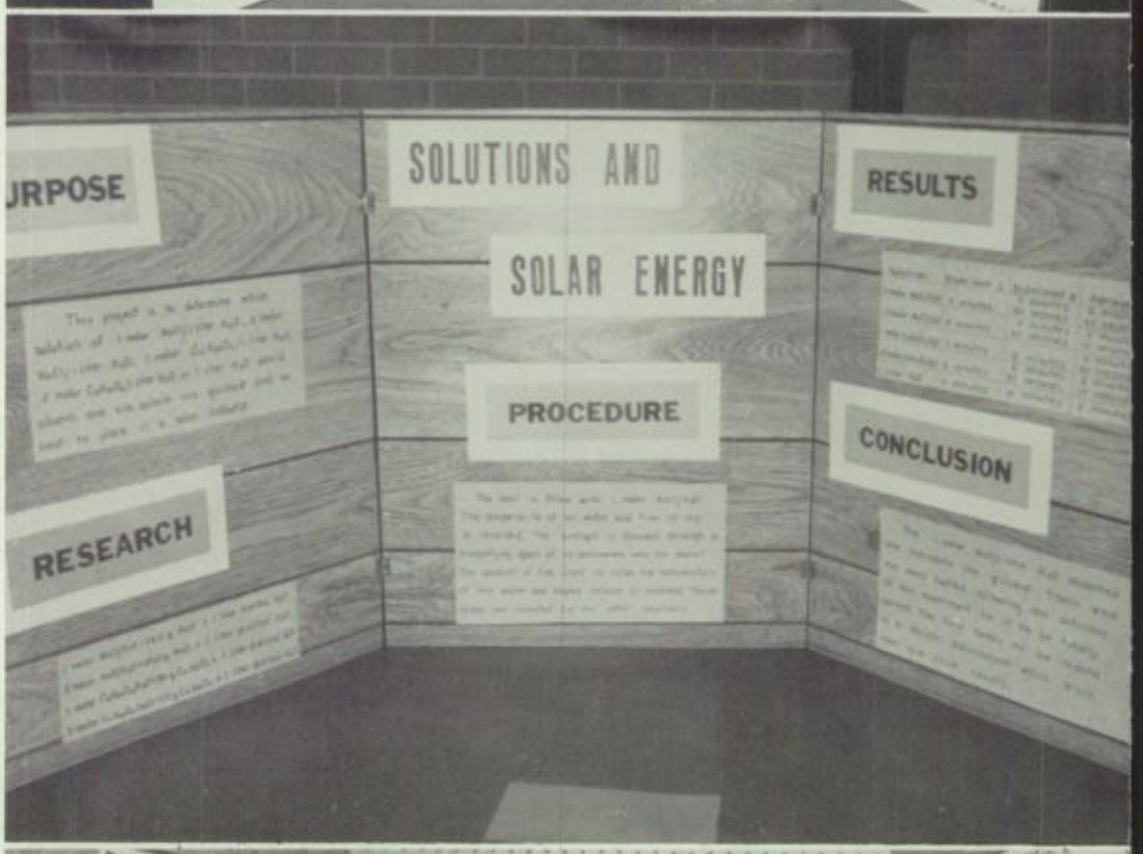
Sandalwood Junior High School had 54 science projects displayed during its 1982-83 Science Fair. More than one-half of the exhibitors were seventh grade students. The projects covered all areas of Science. The students and faculty were very proud of the colorful and educational display made by these projects in the Media Center. Twelve of the projects will compete in the Regional Kiwanis and Engineering Fair to be held at the Regency Square Mall March 3-5, 1983.





SENIOR HIGH SCIENCE FAIR

Approximately fifty projects, representing the original scientific research and display talents of senior high students, were exhibited in early February.

Months of preparation were taken to allow the students time to refine and build their projects to perfection. Twenty-two outstanding projects were selected for regional competition in March. Twelve first prizes, each for work in a specific area of science, were awarded. The following is a list of winners in each category:

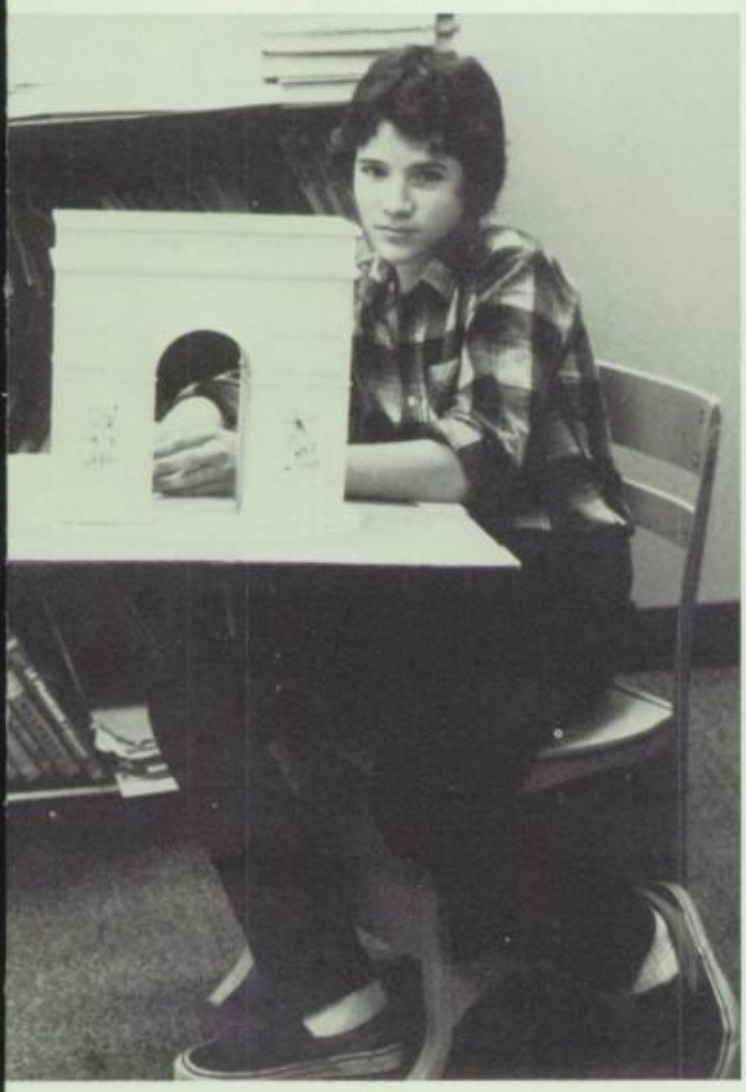
FOREIGN LANGUAGE FIELD DAY

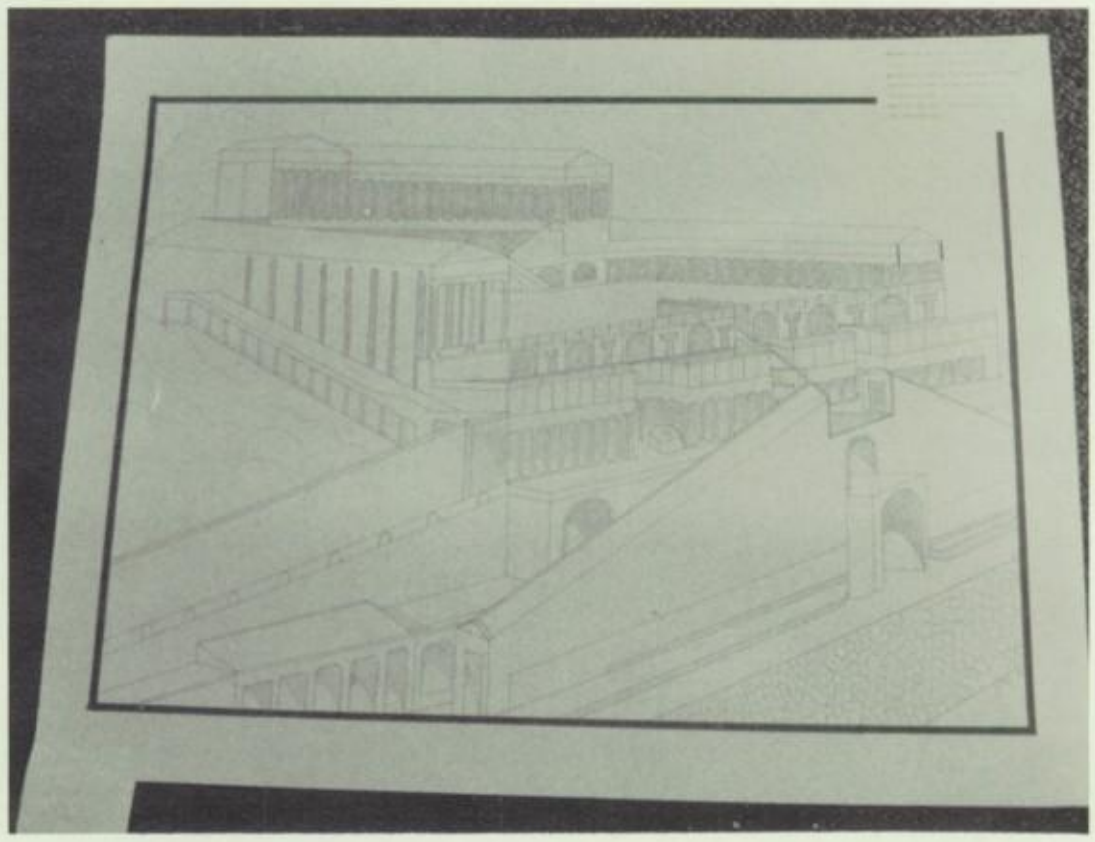
Students from French, Spanish, and Latin classes had a chance to represent Sandalwood at the Foreign Language Field Day in January. Language students from twenty-eight different schools gathered to explore the culture, customs, and languages of other countries. Competition reinforced language skills in exciting matches and contests. Academic events such as spelling bees, and certamen contests yielded many Sandalwood winners, as did athletic events such as track and field. One unique aspect was changing American money into foreign currency to buy T-shirts, candy, and other articles. Contests in cooking and costume categories enhanced the Foreign Language Field Day experience.

It was a day of competition and winners for Sandalwood. With team effort on their side, the Saints captured first place awards galore in both team and individual categories.

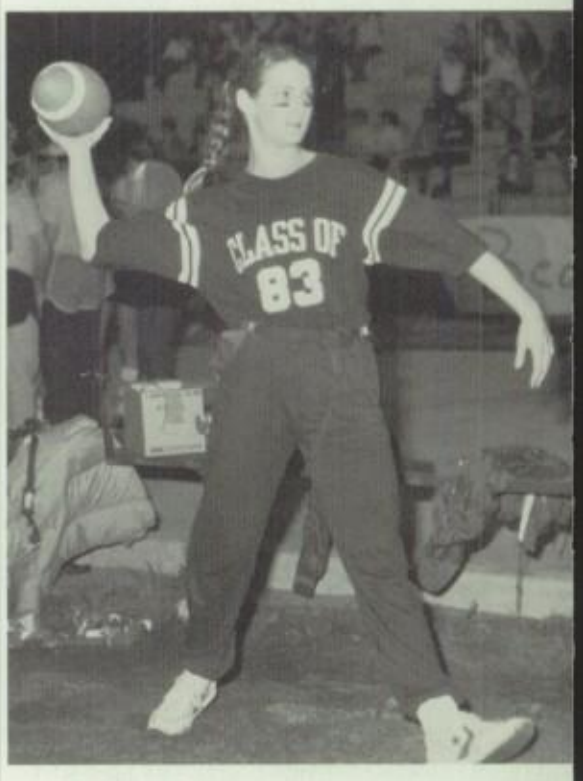
Members of the Girls' relay team were Mary Spooner, Marie Mauricio, Kim Mandell, and Dawn Anderton. The boys' relay team consisted of John Dobbs, Lamar Lucus, Jimmy Martin, and Brad Moser. The Junior High Certamen Team was made up by Karen Kaiser, Sofia Lopez, and Martha Blahut. Members of the Senior High Certamen Team were Sharon Stafford, Jimmy Martin, Laura Palmer, and Sean Seeba.

Individual first place winners from Sandalwood were as follows: Matteel Jones, Agnes Feliberti, Jun Jun Ouilon, George Turnbull, Ulrike Schroeder, Laura Palmer, Sharon Stafford, Gigi Steven, James Oates, Marie Mauricio, Martha Blahut, and Keith Pariseau.





SENIORS, 6-0.



Powder Puff

Creating quite a stir in the halls as well as on the field, the rough and rowdy ladies of Powder Puff settled the score on December 9th at the annual Powder Puff game. Practice, practice, practice was what they did to perfect their plays and build their confidence.

Powder Puff

Finally it was for real, the teams came face to face in an all out battle. A battle it was, as the seniors came up against a good group of athletic juniors. With a sturdy offense and defense, the seniors pulled through by making the first and only touchdown in the second quarter to win the game. The so called cheerleaders livened up the sidelines and halftime. All is not lost for the juniors, who will make that same effort next year with more experience. As for the seniors, it's a victory that will be long remembered.

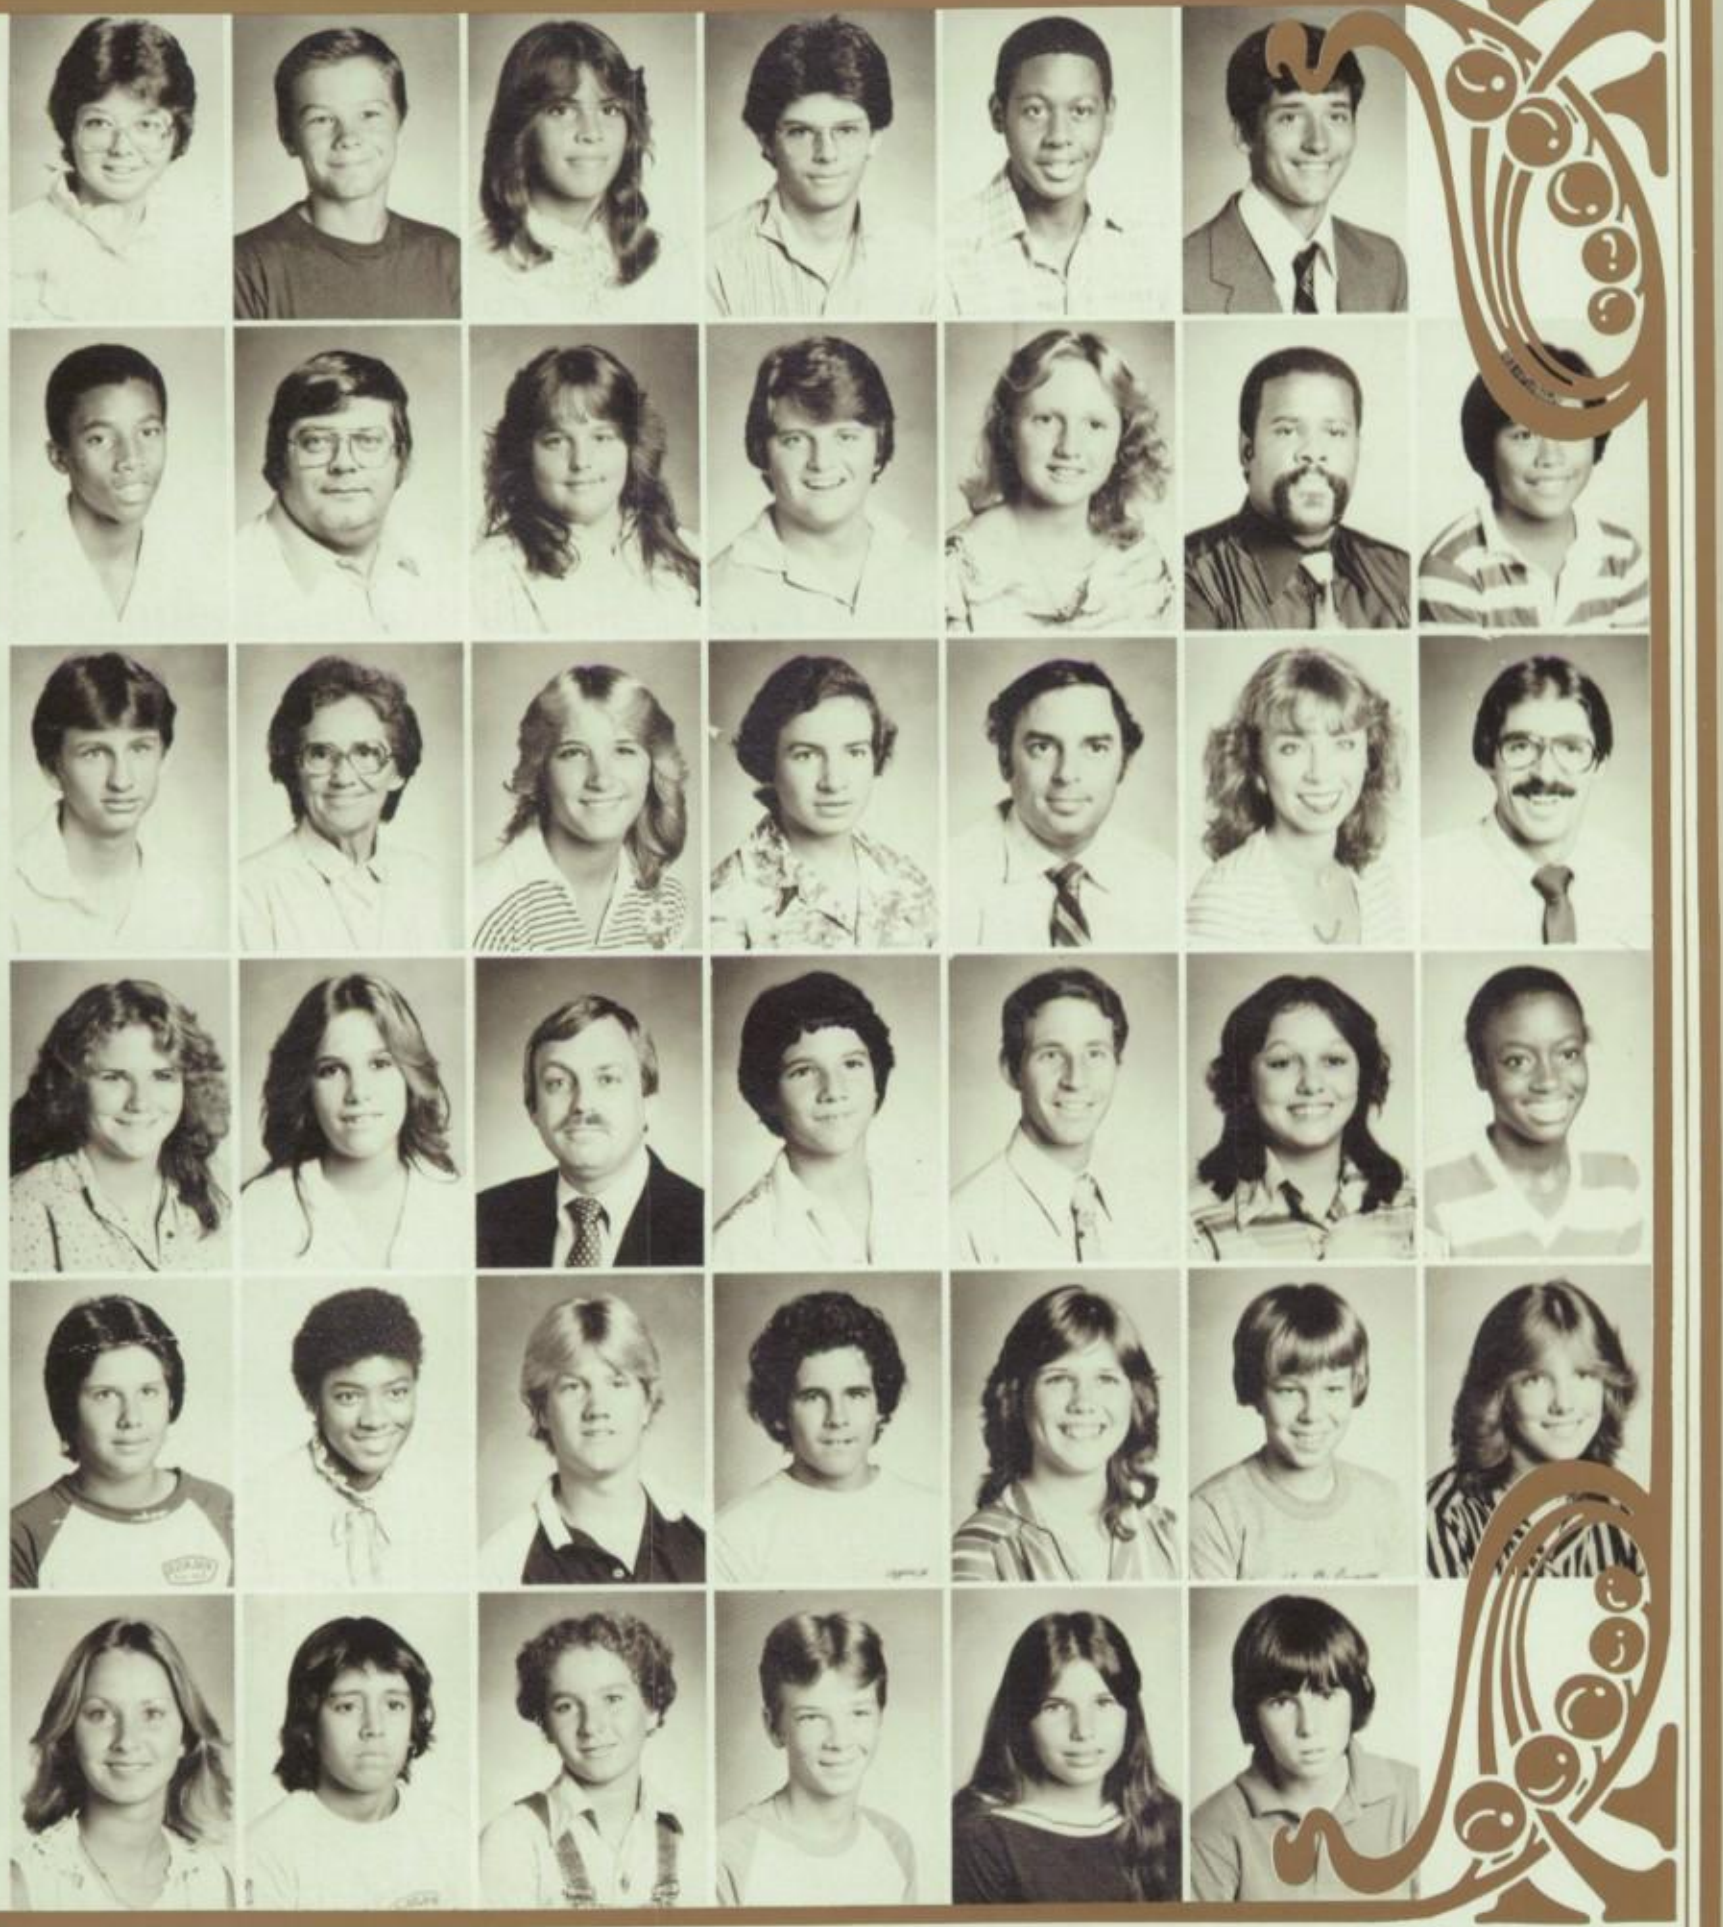
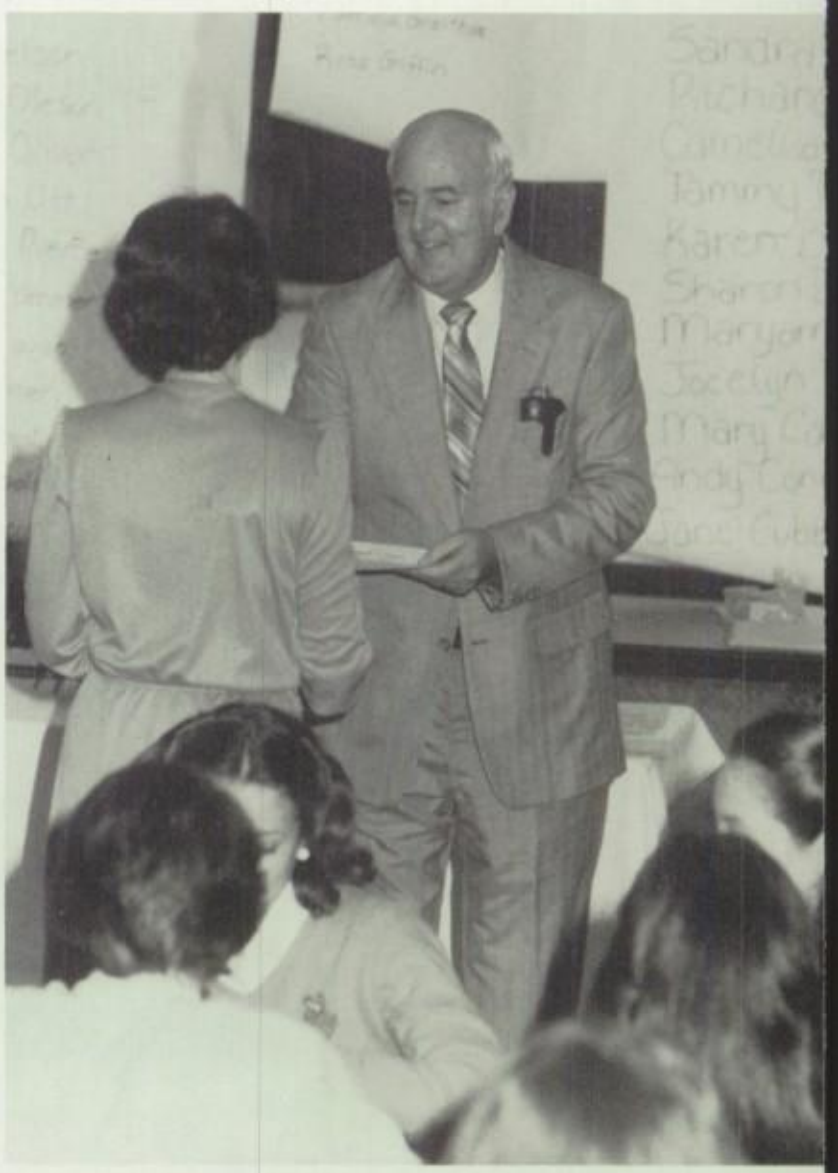
Main-Course n. — The centerpiece of a meal, around which all other dishes are arranged. Specifically, the "meat" or "bulk" of a serving.

As the main course of a meal is the highlight, so are the class pictures of any annual. A chef may draw from several sources to produce a spectacular feast. Represented here are people from all walks of life and from all ethnic backgrounds, truly Sandalwood's feast. Each picture stands out individually while still remaining a part of the larger whole. These students will all eventually graduate, but not without leaving a little bit of themselves behind. The class pictures are indelible proof of the role they have played at Sandalwood. To Sandalwood's own pictorial feast we say, "Bon Appetit!"



ADMINISTRATION



The work day for Mr. Roberts, Sandalwood Senior High Principal, involves many activities. From 8:00 a.m. until late evening, he can be found working with students, faculty and the administrative team as well as maintenance crews to insure that the school day runs smoothly. After 30 years on the job, some of his duties would seem to be routine but every situation is given the same consistent consideration, day after day. It is this sincere concern for others that makes Mr. Roberts a popular principal.

ADMINISTRATION

Driving many miles each day to Sandalwood does not dampen the spirits of Mr. Baker, Sandalwood Junior High Principal. Upon arrival, he immediately gets out in the halls to greet people and makes sure that traffic flows safely. Reacting positively in all situations, he assures both faculty and students that their welfare is his top priority. It is a pleasure to welcome Mr. Baker to Sandalwood this year.

Success at its best!

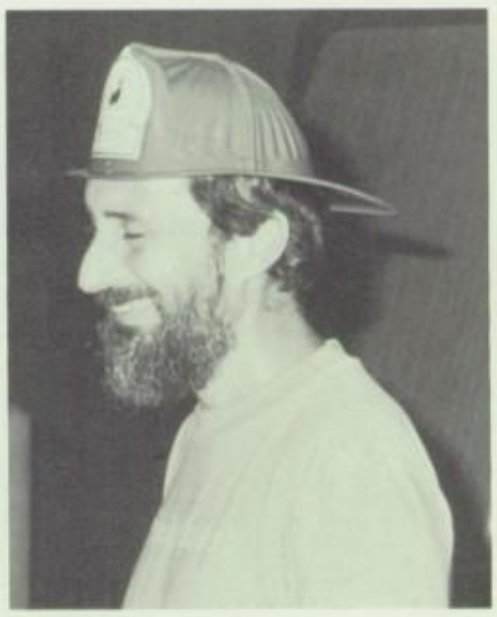
FACULTY

Determination, patience, time, understanding, and hardwork go into that special bond made between the teacher and students at Sandalwood. This serious endeavor is complimented by an appreciation for the fun times that are also a definite part of school life. Teachers as well as students have enjoyed the revelry found in activities within and outside the classroom. This certainly proves that at Sandalwood, getting involved is the key to success.

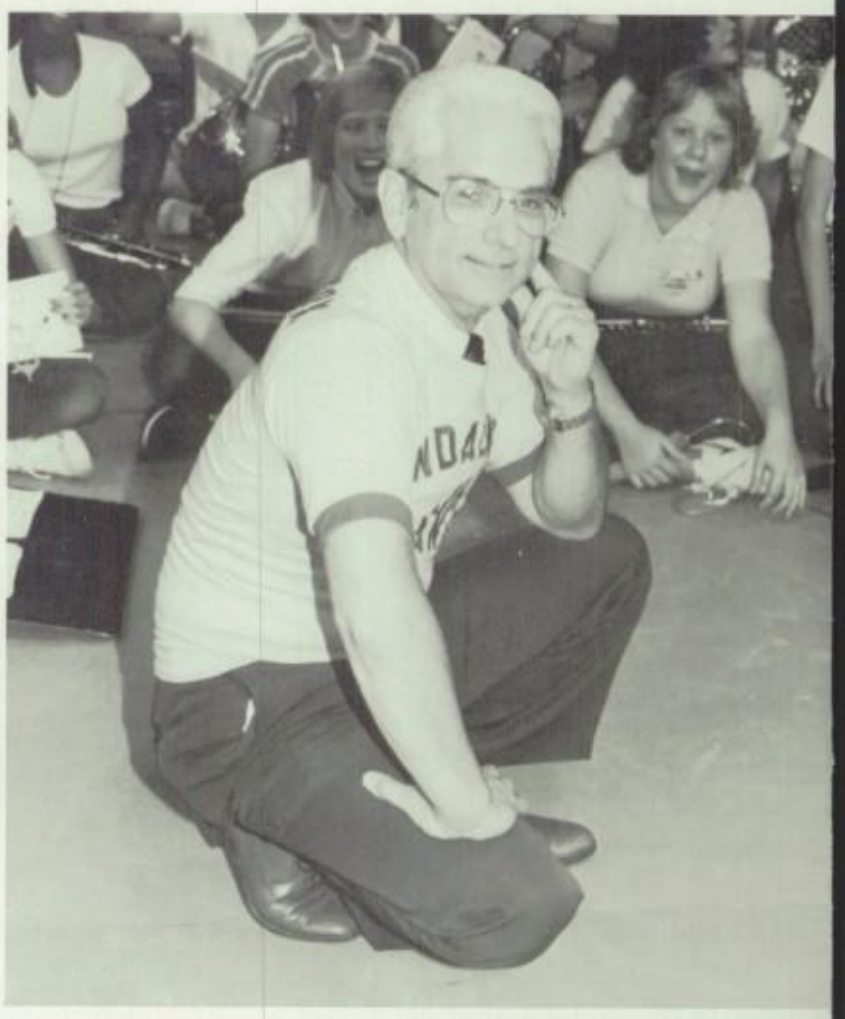
FACULTY

FACULTY

It is often said that "the proof is in the pudding" and so it is with teaching at Sandalwood. Satisfaction for the faculty comes from a job well done. Students and faculty can take pride in the many achievements they have made this year. It is through the combined efforts of many individuals that the standard of living can be improved. At Sandalwood, the combined efforts of both a dedicated faculty and an interested student body make for a better tomorrow. As a team, they have brought acclaim and recognition to Sandalwood.



FACULTY



Teachers add to the spice of life by creating a more pleasant and relaxing atmosphere. Hamming it up every now and then, they add that certain touch that makes them the "apples of our lives."

In a good teacher-student relationship, there is mutual understanding and respect. Giving students flavorful ideas, teachers inspire bright futures. By cooperating with each other, students and teachers accomplish goals . . . that make their lives more complete.

FACULTY

Mmm Mmm good! Sandalwood's teachers are the "Cream of the Crop." Their recipe for student success calls for a lot of concentrated studies and a sprinkling of dedication. Add to this a helpful amount of understanding and you'll know the faculty is truly crucial to student growth. Providing food for thought, Sandalwood's faculty prepares tomorrow's adults to face each new day with optimism. Aside from educational responsibilities, teachers season the year by sponsoring and supporting extracurricular activities. Encouraging the best . . . "Learn to Learn," teachers inspire high ideals and bright futures for students. Their genuine sensitivity towards teaching shines in their close relationship with the student body. A strong sense of satisfaction motivates Sandalwood's teachers to make this the greatest year ever!

SENIORS . . . SENIORS . . . SENIORS

It's been that kind of year again . . . old friends, new classes, and more fun. The Class of '83 set an enthusiastic pace by stirring up spirit that not only led to a winning year but a year full of special moments. It's been a year of laughter, hard work, and dedication . . . reflecting the memorable times that have been everyday life at Sandalwood Junior-Senior High School. The secret ingredients for this lie in the combination of the students' pride in Sandalwood and their sense of togetherness. Activities such as Calendar, senior week, and senior breakfasts were great times to be remembered.

Always ready and on the go, seniors are guaranteed to take the cake at pep rallies and to support the Saints in all sports. With hard work and dedication, we have shown pride for what we represent . . . seniors of '83! It is those special moments of belonging that we reflect on and appreciate more. The magic of Grad Nite, the romantic innocence of the prom, and the spontaneous energy of a super Homecoming highlighted a year all seniors were proud of. Just being with friends may mean more than anything to a senior. Our concerns are no longer simple and carefree. As the years go by, a change takes place. Suddenly, living becomes more important and dreams limitless. Every day is too quickly becoming a memory. We have learned from our experiences and have helped each other to prepare for the world ahead. All these experiences are what made our senior year the best!

JUNIORS

Known as the largest class in Sandalwood's history, this year's Junior Class has strived to be one of the most memorable. Spirit and enthusiasm were blended together during pep rallies and extracurricular activities. Being full of dedication and energy, Juniors made Powder Puff, Miss Sandalwood, and the Junior-Senior Prom unforgettable. Through such contributions and displays of devotion, Sandalwood's graduating class of 1984 has paved a way for future juniors to follow. Characterized by their strong motivation, juniors are always seen in the midst of activities. One can guarantee that while at a special event, the person next to you will be a junior. Pride for their school enables them to lend a helping hand whenever it is needed. Because of cooperation with each other, juniors feel a sense of togetherness and security.

The Class of 1984

The "candy apple" of Sandalwood's eye is its Junior class. Under the direction of Charlie Brown, junior class officers have promoted spirit and enthusiasm that have made this class successful. The loss of this year's Powder Puff game did not dampen spirits.

JUNIORS

Juniors can still be found in the midst of every school activity.

Striving for perfection academically, juniors have developed a self-confidence that will help them prepare for a terrific senior year. All their achievements make it possible to say that the Class of '84 is truly the class with more!

SOPHOMORES

This is the life ... Participating in activities and building new interests are keys to being a sophomore. Involvement is the focus of every underclassman and aids in the adjustment to Senior High. Such enthusiasm in Sandalwood helps sophomores build self-confidence that will see them through their remaining two years.

The class of '85 wants to receive from Sandalwood the fine educational opportunities it presents. With optimism and determination, Sophomores count on eventful years to come.

1. Yea! He's cute.
2. Well, what do you think about it?
3. If I could only get this earring out.
4. GO SAINTS! WIN!

CLASS OF 1985

SOPHOMORES

The Class of 1985 is on its way to a new beginning. Sophomores have taken on a great deal of responsibility through various projects. They have contributed much towards the present and as a team feel they can master all obstacles that get in the way. Sophomores have created a new road that will pave their way into the future.

Tony Daniels — President; Keith Reed — Vice President; Phillip Hansberry — Treasurer; Maureen Hurley — Secretary.

A Spirited Group!

FRESHMEN
CLASS OF 1986

Class of '86 has class! Whether a group of freshmen are together or just one, ninth graders do everything well. Their experiences as seventh and eighth graders paved the way for their great year at the top. This year with the help of Ms. Short, ninth grade sponsor, they were able to get involved in many school activities.

The school year, 1982-1983, will long be remembered as a special time.

VERY GOOD YEAR

As the "middle men" of the Junior High, eighth graders are often verlooked. This doesn't dampen spirits as the class of '87 has nade themselves known by being vocal and enthusiastic.

Eighth graders spend time developing hobbies and making iends. They can be found almost anywhere there is a crowd. The lass of '87 has been spirited and excel academically, making them true asset to the Sandalwood student body.

CLASS OF 198

There are all kinds of students like all kinds of apples but very few as active as the eighth grade. Being in the eighth grade means being energetic and enthusiastic. Eighth graders have all their apples polished. They can be seen at pep rallies, honor roll assemblies, and just about anywhere that "Spirited Saints" gather. Like all good apples, eighth graders shine and make the Saints proud.

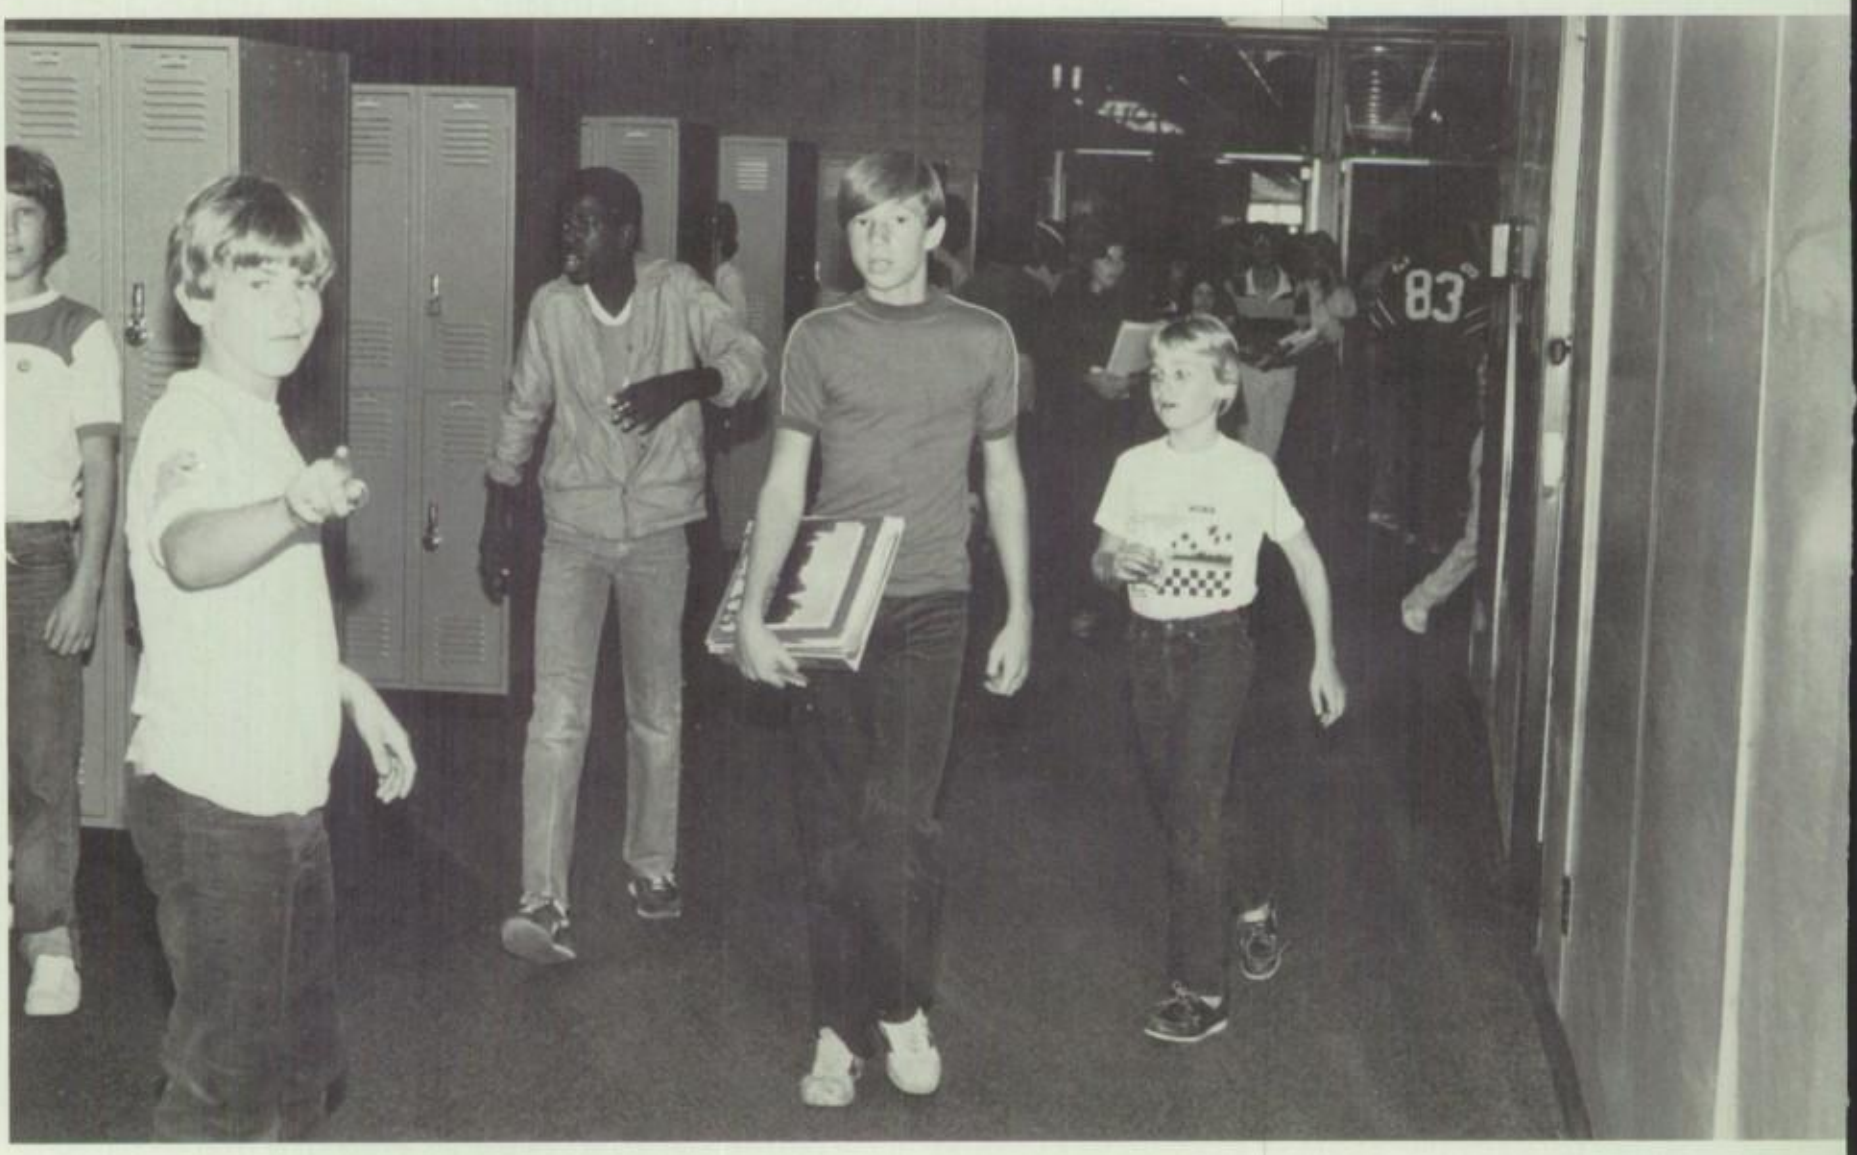
SEVENTH GRADE



SEVENTH GRADE • SEVENTH GRADE

Adding to Sandalwood's mixture of students, seventh graders slowly developed their tastes for high school life. Adjusting to the new environment was an experience in itself, but old and new friends made it enriching.

The average seventh grader can be found wearing blue-jeans and trying to fit in with "the crowd." Bright eyes and cheery smiles are also common characteristics of the Class of '88. Developing responsibilities and learning to adjust are main ingredients that make being a seventh grader enjoyable.

Although the class of 1988 has a long way to go, time flies when you're having fun!

1. Learning the serious way.
2. A Saint cheers for the Blue and Gold.
3. Hey! Who's that?
4. Glasses also aid in opening lockers.
5. Junior High crowds are always the best!
6. The cafeteria line thickens.

SEVENTH GRADE

Everyone knows that all apples aren't the same. The same can be said about the Class of 1988. The seventh grade class has many talented and ambitious students. The energy radiated by this group has brought many awards to Sandalwood. The future looks bright for the Class of 1988.

catch. of. the. day n. A phrase pertaining to the particular catch or highlight on a given day.

"Catch of the Day" is a phrase that can be a representative of all great moments that come in athletic competition. The maximum effort put forth in any field of play is deserving of special recognition. In culinary use, it is defined as the outstanding "catch" or meal of the day. Athletically, it is the once-in-a-lifetime moment that every spectator or player cherishes forever. Who could ever forget those game-saving catches, baskets at the buzzer, or last second touchdowns that give each season that special feeling and make each game an instant classic.

The Saints go marching in!!!

THE BEST EVER

"The Best Ever," describes the 1982 Varsity Football Team. A record of 8-3 was by far the most successful gridiron campaign in Sandalwood history. Another first was an invitation to play in the prestigious Meninak Bowl. For the second consecutive year, the Saints boasted a winning record. A contributing factor to this success was the Saints stingy defense, coming through time and time again to shut down a fiesty opponent. On the other side of the line was the explosive offense, striking at the most opportune times, often breaking the backbone of the opposition. If a game could be singled out as being the highlight of the season, it would have to be the thrilling victory over fierce rival Terry Parker. Behind a strong running attack, Sandalwood avenged last year's heart-breaking loss. The regular season ended in a showdown with Lake City, who also held an 8-1 record. Unfortunately the Tigers withstood a furious fourth quarter rally by the Saints and squeaked by with a 23-19 decision. If the past two years are any indication, Sandalwood's uphill trend should yield an outstanding team next year, a team worthy of carrying on the title, "Best Ever."

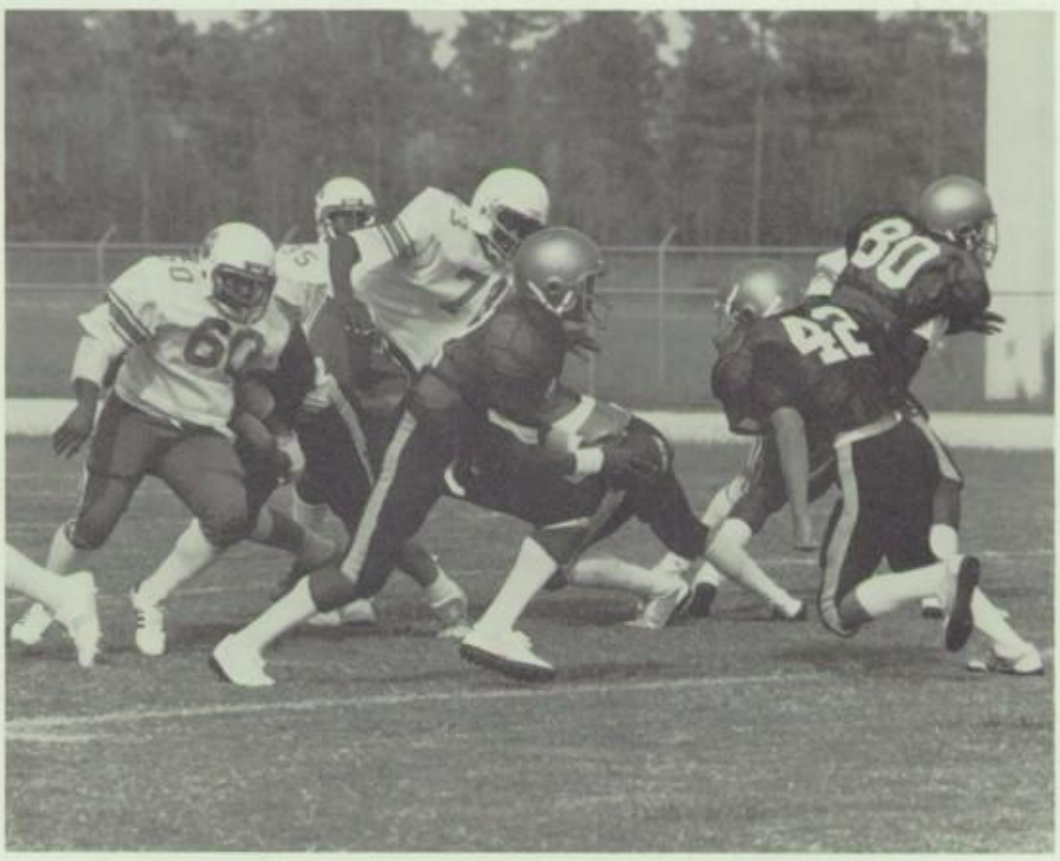
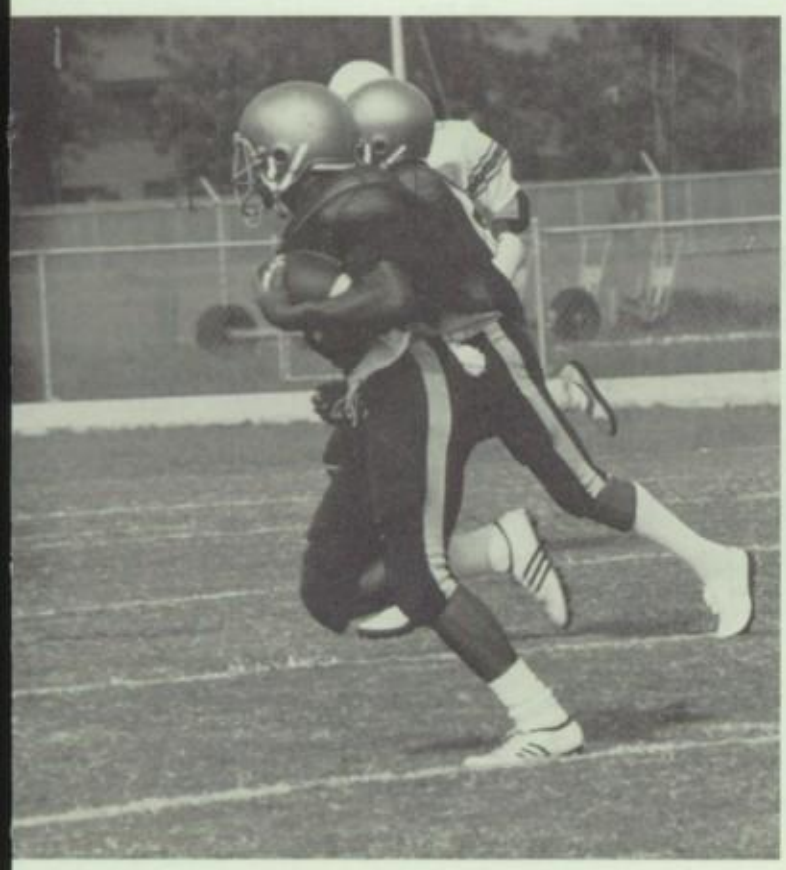
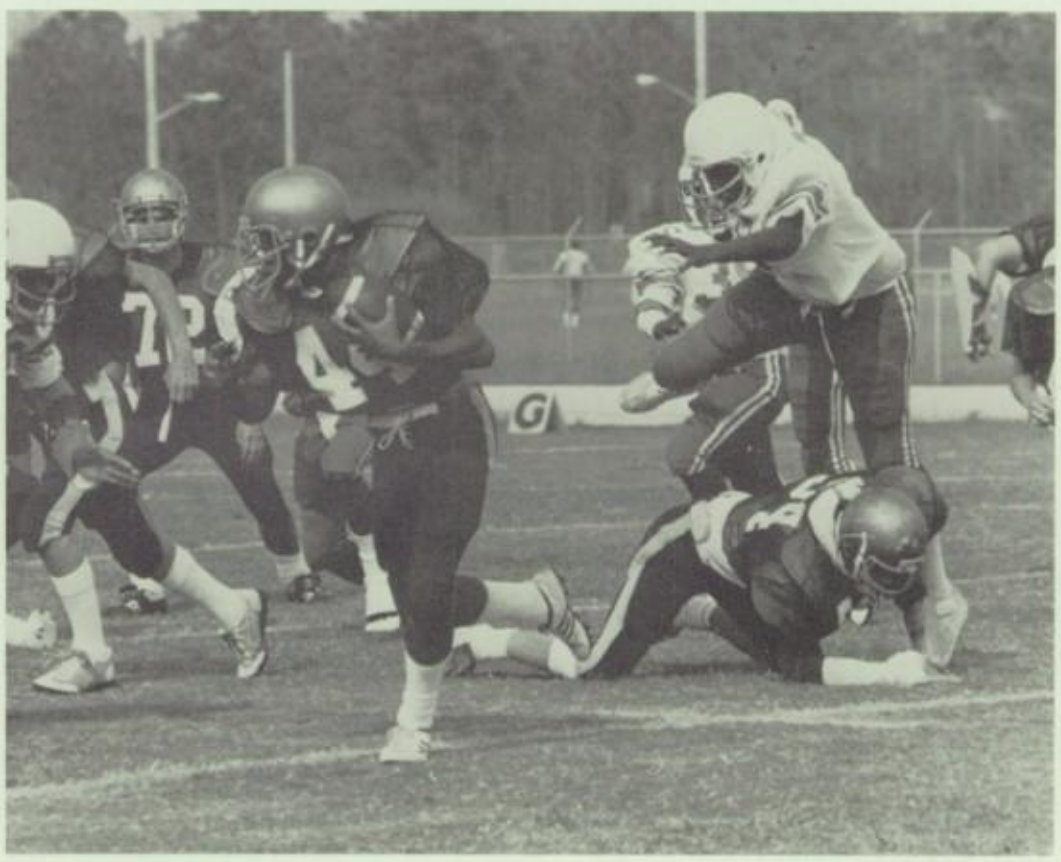
Once again the Junior Varsity Saints have achieved a winning season. The will to be victorious came to life as players met and surpassed their goals.

Such a team as this uses abilities and strengths above the requirements. Players learned to develop skills that they will use next year as varsity players, but those who choose not to play again gained pride in themselves because of their participation with a winning team.

Junior Varsity players have experienced triumph and created an example of true dedication and spirit.







JUNIOR HIGH FOOTBALL

Down . . . Set . . . Hike . . . sets the stage for Junior High action. The young football team has performed admirably and above the call of duty. Football is a game requiring coordination and stamina, and the ability to withstand physical contact. It works around the concepts of togetherness and teamwork. The goal of success was accomplished with a well deserved 50-0 homecoming win over Fletcher. The maturity and knowledge gained by participating will help every player in their future athletic pursuits.

VARSITY GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL

It takes time to build a winning team. Learning to cooperate and work together takes effort in itself. With only two returning seniors, the Girls' Varsity Volleyball Team was dominated by juniors. Even though these hardworking Lady Saints finished with a record of 4-11, they still have high hopes for next year's season. With the motto "together we can do it" and the necessary guidance of Coach Lope, they are still part of Sandalwood's pride and joy.

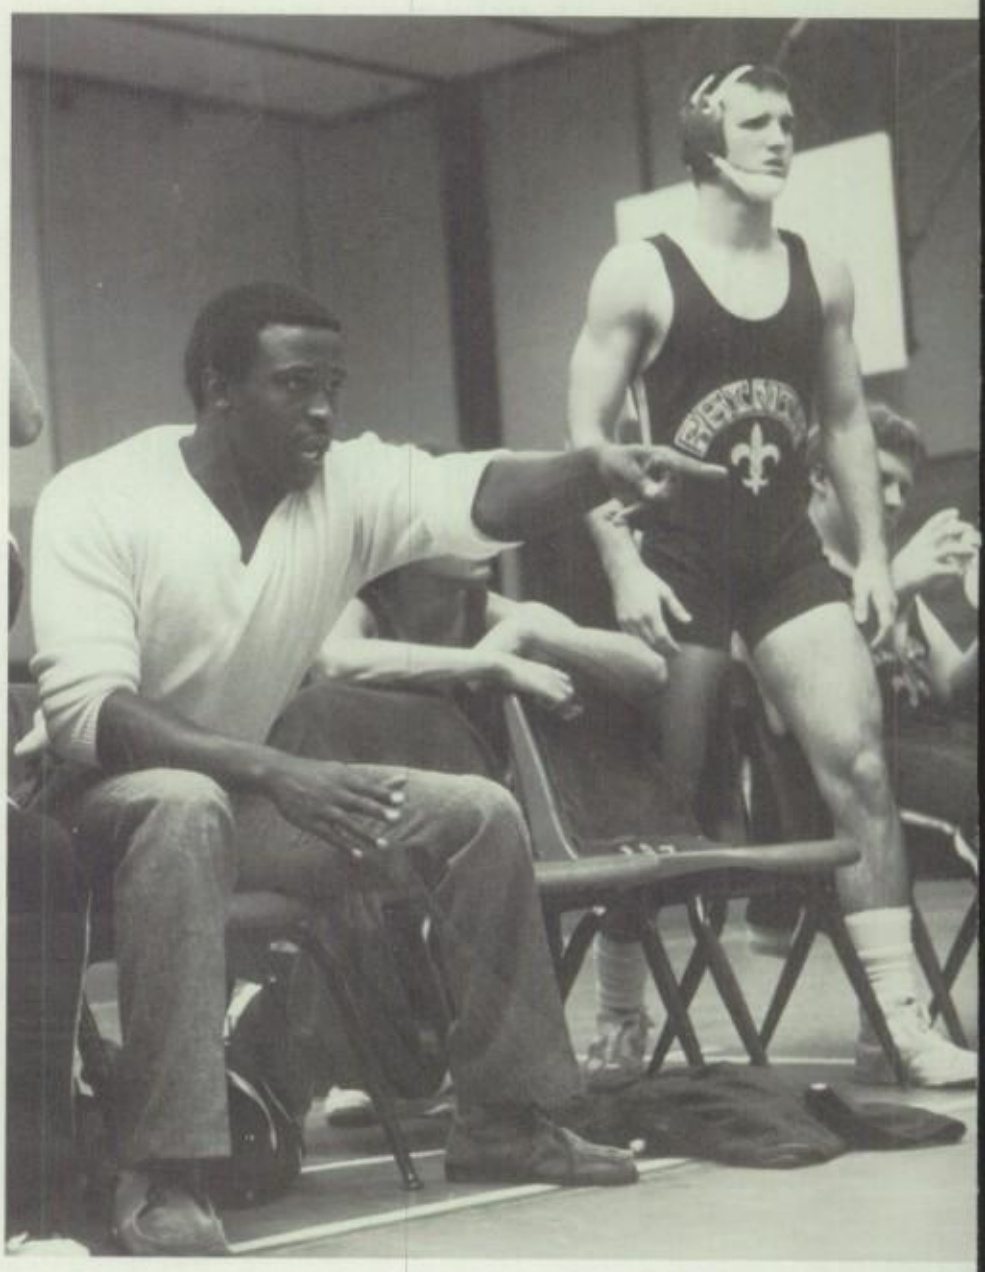
WRESTLING



Wrestling is not just a game of rough-housing; it is a sport that requires more than physical stamina. Wrestlers must be mentally alert and great strategy players. The Varsity Wrestling Team, under the directorship of Coach Bartley, has learned its lessons well. The team is concerned with group play as well as individual effort. In the end, it is not just individual and team wins that count, it is the brotherhood of spirit that moves our Saints.

VARSITY BOYS' BASKETBALL

What's round, orange, and can keep a fan on the edge of his seat? A basketball in the hands of the Varsity Boys' Basketball Team. The excitement comes by the intensity and dedication with which these talented young men play. Two things that must go hand in hand to build a winning team are physical conditioning and mental toughness. These factors allowed the team to maintain high standards of play throughout the long and demanding season. The potential to come from behind and steal an unbelievable victory or to fight head to head with the toughest of opponents are some of the admirable qualities that Saints have strived to build. These are also the qualities that keep the fans coming back for more.

NINTH GRADE BOYS' BASKETBALL

You really have to be on the ball to play the fast-paced sport of basketball. Any player will tell you, there's more to it than just dribbling the ball and being able to shoot the basket. The main goal is teamwork. Striving to be the best they can be is what makes the 9th grade basketball team work. A major influence on the players is Coach Roberts. Under his guidance, the team has reached their goal.

EIGHTH GRADE BOYS' BASKETBALL

In building a basketball powerhouse, the emphasis is placed on the development of young players. Sandalwood is able to bring its players from the early stages of experience and fundamentals to refined talent. A junior-senior high situation enables this unique feature of the Sandalwood basketball program to exist. As in most winning traditions, eagerness is a key to success on the court. This young team is certainly not lacking in this area as they strive for the attention that their tenacious and exciting style of play deserves.

JUNIOR HIGH GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Talented and young, determined and ambitious, are two phrases used to create a picture of Sandalwood's Junior High Girls' Basketball Team. The essential techniques needed to brew a flavorful team can be found in the performances of this dedicated group. An enthusiastic coach is the finishing ingredient needed. The right combinations of fundamentals, teamwork, and hustle are also important. On or off the court, the girls proved themselves sportswomen worthy of praise.

Varsity Soccer

A crop of fresh new faces and returning starters proved to be the team that put Sandalwood on the soccer map.

Led by new head Coach, Scott King, the team has found encouragement and determination. Drawing from different schools as well as its own junior high, Sandalwood is able to produce its own unique version of this fast paced and graceful sport. Players of various nationalities also give the team a foreign flavor and the right to call itself the melting pot of Sandalwood sports. This year's team will be the prime mover in bringing the world's most popular sport more attention at Sandalwood.

JUNIOR HIGH SOCCER

In the fast-paced sport of soccer, anything can happen. Every kick or block is practiced and perfected with enthusiastic effort by every player on the Junior High Soccer Team. These soccer buffs take the game seriously, but also play for the fun of it. Through the season, they've taken the ups and downs in stride. With Coach Armstrong standing by, the team has gained experience and a good sense of sportsmanship for seasons to come.

VARSITY SWIMMING

Water is the natural habitat of Sandalwood's fleet-finned swimmers. Splashing their way to bigger and better challenges comes easy for these waterbugs. The diving portion of the team achieved one of many goals with Loraine Dickinson and Brian Farrell placing first in Conference Diving. The team improved greatly with Coaches Matthews, Caldwell, Smardon, and King adding the ingredients that make a team strong. This strength will really allow the Saints to burst from the pack next year as growth and building will result in record times and blue ribbons.

JUNIOR HIGH SWIMMING

Swimming is not just paddling through the water like a duck; it is a combination of timing, endurance, and agility. Monotonous and strenuous practices help these young aquatic saints to develop the necessary techniques for competing. Swim meets are demanding times in which swimmers learn their true capabilities. A desire to succeed characterizes this team and will help them splash to a successful season.

VARSITY BASEBALL

Excitement is in the air when the Saint's Baseball team takes the field. The past seasons have built a distinguished reputation of winning. In this game of inches, no play is routine and there's never room for mistakes. So with the constant supervision of Coach Mathews, the players are guided to their fullest potential. Last year's conference champs returned with an abundance of self-confidence. This outstanding quality helped them throughout games in the late innings against the stiffest of competition. They go into each game expecting to win. But as important as winning is, the camaraderie and strengthening of character that comes over a long season is something that will last forever.

BOYS' TRACK TEAM

The combined efforts of Coach Brown and Coach Sovie make the Boy's and Girl's Varsity Track Teams reach far past their potential. In a sport such as track the ability to run fast is natural and raw talent. It is left to the coaches to refine and polish this talent. Track also calls for diversity. Team members can be expected to participate in various field events such as the shotput or the long jump. Above all, these athletes must exemplify the standards of physical conditioning. Spectators in the stands are no doubt in awe as they watch the fleet feet of Sandalwood hurl themselves down the track.

VARSITY GIRLS' TENNIS

In a sport such as tennis, timing is crucial. It plays a vital role in the eventual outcome of a match. For the Varsity Girls' Tennis Team there is no time like the present. Increased enthusiasm has made their long hours on the court seem shorter and tired feet move faster. The rigorous practices have made their volleys crisper, groundstrokes deeper, and their serves more accurate. But a tennis match isn't won on physical assets alone. Tennis requires a chess-like knowledge of strategies and innovative game plans. This brings in the all too important figure of the coach.

As the leader behind the team he is able to put together the right amounts of mental toughness and physical tenacity that will make each venture on the court a successful one for the girls' team.

VARSITY BOYS' TENNIS

Smashes! Aces! Winners! Not only are these some of the most exciting shots in tennis, they are also words descriptive of the Varsity Boys' Tennis Team. This crack squad of players always takes the court in eager and confident Saints tradition. This confidence has become the personal trademark of the varsity squad. It gives them the endurance to withstand grueling baseline rallies and tense third set tie-breakers. As usual, returning starters gave the team a solid foundation to build from. Adding to this were new players and a new coach. With all these elements working for them success was met not only on a competitive level but on a personal one as well.

Sweets — n. that which is pleasant in nature, by either taste, touch, or, smell. An enjoyable or pleasing experience.

Of all the facets of high school, one of the most enjoyable is the participation in extra-curricular clubs. In retrospect, involvement in a club is usually a memory that is fondly looked back on. Diversity becomes necessary for a student who seeks more than an education from high school. Clubs not only serve as an extension of each member's personality, but also function as an important social outlet. Choosing which club to join can be as tempting as browsing through a candy shop. Each club offers varied and unique features that require careful thought before selection. But as in a candy shop, the customer always comes out the winner!

ANCHOR

Cooking up a storm of successful service projects throughout the year, Anchor fulfilled the high personal standards they traditionally set for themselves. Their many service projects benefit both school and community alike. Service to the school was shown through the annual registration and Open House, decorating for the first Senior Breakfast, cleaning grounds at school, and baking cakes for the Faculty on holidays. The community is also a main concern for these conscientious young women!

ns, Richard Dillard, Mark Barnes.

Anchor has shared their time and effort with the Jazz Festival as well as the Greek Festival; making funnel cakes for Jax Wheels; and over Christmas they visited a children's hospital and stuffed stockings for the Salvation Army. Selling candy, Santa Grams, etc. were main fund-raisers for the year. But the taste of success was met during the homecoming season, where Anchor worked long hours and placed in all three categories. Needless to say, it's been a productive year. The enjoyment and participation of the girls and mascots together, whether for the school, community, or just by themselves, distinguish their personality as the Anchor Club of Sandalwood.

Senior Band

If you were looking for a band member, where would he be? Probably marching and practicing drills. Bob Edwards guides these dedicated students as they strive to create a beautiful sound and show. Musicians as well as flags, rifle corps and majorettes combine their talents in exciting performances.

Drilling and re-drilling creates tedious practices, but the long hours receive payment as Sandalwood's Marching Band is known as the "cream of the crop." This can be seen by any spectator who observes the beautiful performances given by Senior Band.

RCHESTRA

In performances for the school and community, the Sandalwood Orchestra showed themselves to be one of the finest in the community. Their enjoyable combinations give the sound of musicians experienced beyond their years. No doubt, much of this unique sound can be attributed to the influence and leadership of director, Don Papenbrock. His years of knowledge and musicianship are reflected in each group of students he instructs.

Senior High Chorus

The soaring vocals and pleasant harmonies that are found in most renowned choral groups are commonplace among Sandalwood's own Senior High Chorus. By artfully blending sounds and practicing voice control, the chorus provides to its audiences an original and refreshing style. They achieve their poise and polish by appearing in public at various functions. The image they have to uphold provides an incentive for exhilarating and inspiring performances.

Singing Saints

Dear Tessy,
I really enjoyed working with you and I wish you could have stayed all year. Remember
all of the good times
that we used to have?
Saffees class? Band?
I'm really gonna miss you.
See you sometime and keep in touch.

Junior High Chorus

Singing their way to the top describes the Junior High Chorus. Expressing themselves through singing is a big responsibility which requires a lot of time and dedication. The experience is like no other. It gives a person confidence and a feeling of giving something special to someone else through singing.

BCE-FBLA

BCE-FBLA offers students the chance to work and learn in close contact with various businesses in the community. Such exposure to the business world provides valuable knowledge and experience. Students in BCE-FBLA have the opportunity to not only learn job skills but to earn money as well. Involvement here really pays its dividends when the student graduates. By working so closely with the business community, students are able to go directly into jobs of their specialty. Time has shown BCE-FBLA to be a great asset to the school as well as to the community.

BOWLING

It's a strike! One of Sandalwood's newest activities is the Sandalwood Saints Bowling Club. Bowling Club members enjoy themselves by participating in league bowling one day a week after school at Bowl America Southside. The club also sponsors junior and senior high teams that participate in a county wide intermural bowling tournament.

Good sportsmanship and teamwork are emphasized as well as the development of skills. By consistantly bowling, members improve their game.

The Junior High Cheerleaders started their season by heduling practice during the summer holidays to get ady for N.C.A. camp in July. The cheerleaders had a ueling week at Jacksonville University learning the cor-ct way to cheer. All of their practices and time payed off nen they won, one Excellent, four Superior, and the irit Stick at National Cheerleading Camp.

Once school started, the cheerleaders cheered, made treats, and decorated the halls for football, boys' and girls' basketball, volleyball, soccer, and track teams. Under the leadership of Mary Spooner (Captain) and Melissa Smith (Co-Captain) all sports were introduced at several pep rallies.

The 1982-1983 Junior High Cheerleading Squad was active in supporting all sports and generating school spirit and pride.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Behind every successful athletic department can be found an equally successful cheerleading squad. This story holds true for our 1982-83 cheerleading champions.

These twelve young ladies, along with one fantastic sponsor, began their summer by winning the title of the first A.A.U. Cheerleading Competition Champs. Soon after, they attended J.U. for one week and won straight superiors! But the success isn't over yet!! They placed first in the Duval County Cheerleading Competition for the second year in a row. These girls found out that hard work and dedication, along with the love that they share, have been proven over and over again by their many accomplishments. The memories will live on forever. Congratulations girls . . . for a job well done.

DCT

Sandalwood provides many opportunities to meet student's needs. One such program is Diversified Cooperative Training, or better known as DCT. DCT combines half a day of high school studies and the other half with on-the-job training. By learning skills on the job, students can gain vital work experience and develop their interests in the business world. They participate in cooperative education activities on the local, district and state level as well as involving themselves in school and community service like a regular club. Having the best of both worlds is what these students want to accomplish through this unique program.

FIASA

The Florida Industrial Arts Student Association is sponsored by Mr. Johnson and Mr. Hutchins. Under their leadership, students taking industrial arts courses are given the opportunity to develop and strengthen the various skills needed to be true craftsmen. The group participated in many extra-curricular activities and provided needed services to the school. The pride that both members and sponsors take in their work is evidenced by the major awards they win each year.

FRENCH CLUB

Parlez-vous français? No matter what your answer is, you'll feel right at home among members of French Club. Although many of the members are not presently enrolled in the language, several are taking their third and fourth year of French. Being a part of L'Esprit helps to enrich one's knowledge of the French language as well as the culture.

The Foreign Language Field Day and the Florida State French Convention are two events which are included in L'Esprit's menu. The annual Christmas carnation sale was also an enjoyable way to combine learning and fun.

HOSA

More a class than a club, HOSA still participates actively in school and pursues jobs in the medical field. They learn techniques such as applying first aid and become familiar with the routine schedules of physicians and nurses by actually working with them on the job. Considering all these experiences, the members of HOSA can pursue a fulfilling career with the training they've gained while at Sandalwood. Officers for this year were: President — Sheila Ripley, Vice President — Shenita LaRosa, Treasurer — Sherlen Razor, Secretary — Cindy Sheppard, and Parliamentarian — Toni Woods.

INCREDIBLE HOLT'S

One big happy family? You bet! Incredible Holt's certainly suit their name, INCREDIBLE. Being a part of Incredible Holt's isn't sew easy! It takes a lot o skill and hardwork. Members take pride in the clothes they create. They take part in many activities, including a fashion show at school and one a Regency Square. Most all of the girls make their own prom dresses and Grad Nite outfits. Other events include making aprons for Holt's Heroes Needleless to say, being in Incredible Holt's is like being a part of close friendship and togetherness.

HOLT'S HEROES

The way to a school's heart is through its cooking class!! Under the watchful eye of Mrs. Holt, Holt's Heroes have catered to pre-game meals, Senior Breakfasts, luncheons for the teachers, calendar nominees, and Senior Citizens. They are an important asset to the Home Economics department at Sandalwood.

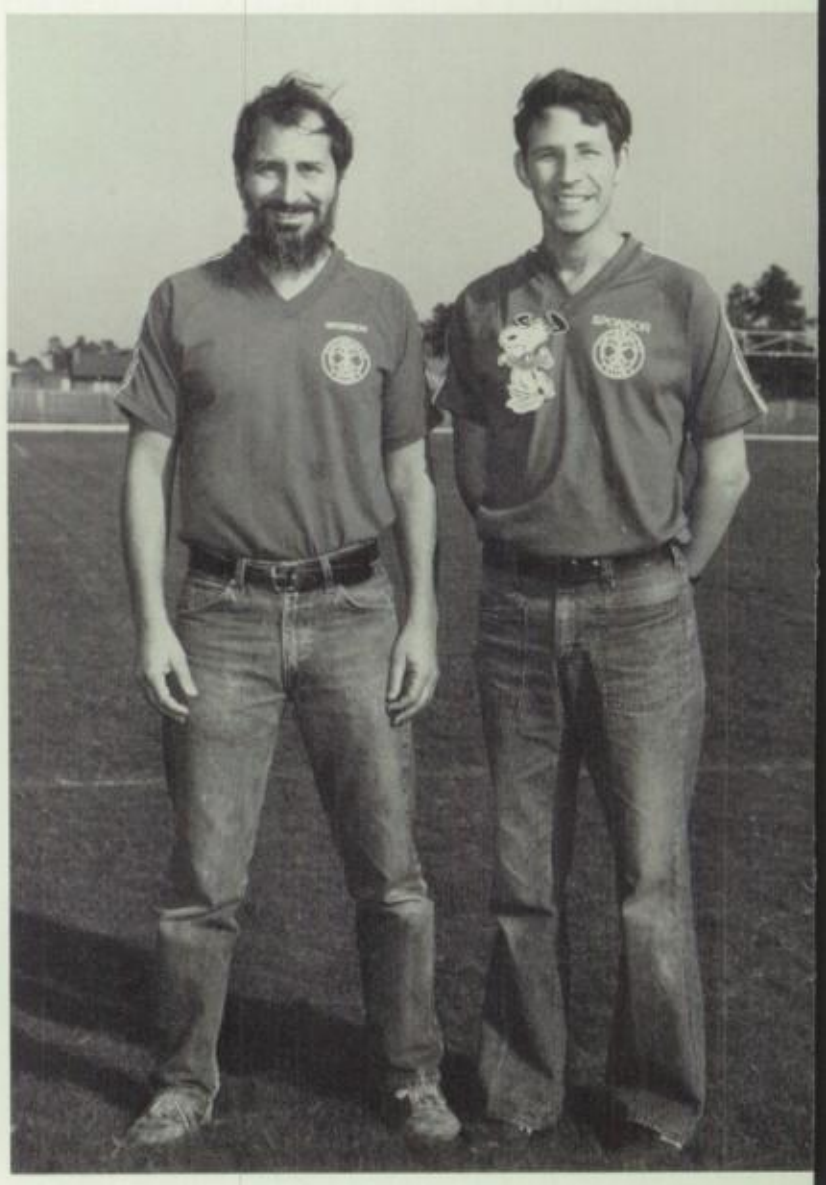
INTERACT



The key to Interact's success actually lies in their name. The working together and closeness that comes over a long year exemplifies what Interact stands for. They not only work with each other, but also with the faculty, administration and the surrounding community. A great deal of the success enjoyed by the Interact Club can be measured through their motto, "Service Above Self." Putting this motto into action is what separates Interact from the rest. Each member fully understands the obligations and demands that are required and eagerly complies. Homecoming showed off the fruits of their labors as they captured first in both wall hanging and float. Active involvement in both school and community projects served to strengthen their reputation as one of the finest clubs at Sandalwood.

JAM CLUB

Meeting new people and being involved in school events are all a part of being a member of the Jam Club. Jam Clubbers are some of the most spirited students at Sandalwood. The Jam Club adds flavor and fun to junior high life. Members take pride in building interest and showing support. The Junior High Jam Club is growing stronger and serving the needs of our students in every positive way.

JUNIOR HIGH JOURNAL

The budding journalists of the Junior High Journal are tireless in their desire to tell the whole story. Their eagerness is spurred from active involvement in one of the most exciting classes offered in junior high. By working in this atmosphere, they learn about the pressures of deadlines and the importance of getting the facts straight. The Junior High Journal also allows young writers to get an insight into not only the workings of a newspaper, but the school as well. Most importantly is their ability to put it together as a deadline draws near, and come up with something to be proud of.

KEY CLUB

By participating in school activities and community projects, the '82-'83 Key Club has built a new name for itself. Events such as homecoming, Mr. Ugly, the Mayport Jazz Festival, and Special Olympics were all on Key's Menu.

Sponsored by Beaches Kiwanis, the Sandalwood chapter of Key Club International has made it an honor to be a member of such a prestigious club.

Community involvement and service to Sandalwood have left their marks on Key members. An appreciation of what we have and an understanding of the plight of those less fortunate have made the club stand together in spirit, brotherhood, and thanksgiving.

Keyette

KEYETTE OFFICERS — Heather Vincent — Vice President, Jill King — President, Karin Kaemp — Sergeant at Arms, Cyndra Holmes — Secretary, Sue Hune — Treasurer.

Keyette, one of the most energetic clubs at Sandalwood, kept a busy calendar throughout the year. Projects ranged from wrapping packages for the Cancer Society to acting as guides at the Jazz Festival. They participated in an open house for Alden Road, the Jerry Lewis Telethon, and attended various senior citizen functions.

Within the school, they remained just as active by not only serving refreshments for the faculty but by

LATIN CLUB

Membership in the Latin Club requires much more than knowledge of the language. This is because the Latin Club is also involved in school and community activities. Some of these projects include entering the wall-hanging and car decoration competitions during homecoming week. Active members also stuffed stockings for the Salvation Army at Christmas. Most important are the events such as the Foreign Language Field Day and the District and State Latin Forums. These events give Sandalwood's talented Latin students the opportunity to compete with area schools. If the past year's successes are any indication, Sandalwood will once again return home with more than its share of awards.

NATIONAL JUNIOR HONOR SOCIETY

High standards in character, scholarship, and service are a necessity for the members of NJHS. A 3.5 grade-point average must also be maintained to be inducted as a member.

Although sitting at home every night and doing homework sounds likely, NJHS engages in projects and activities. Among these is the annual Channel 7 auction.

National Junior Honor Society has given its members the sense of responsibility and maturity needed to succeed in life.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

This elite society is composed of members possessing a high grade point average and leadership qualities that exemplify the tradition of the National Honor Society. The rich experience that comes with this association will leave fond memories and help in preparation for future educational pursuits. Not only does NHS emphasize the possession of knowledge and admirable traits, it encourages their practical use. Such encouragement will no doubt be an asset as many of these scholars continue their academic excellence in various colleges around the country. The qualities such as dependability, responsibility, and perseverance that have been instilled have not only made their high school years profitable and enriching, but will assure success in the future.

PEP CLUB

Designed to add to the support already given to junior high sports by cheerleaders and parents, the Pep Club contributes excitement. They've been present at basketball games, adding flavor with cheers they wrote themselves.

School pride and activities other than sports were also on the menu. With an overall look at the spirit promoted by this club in all areas, one can say that the Junior High Pep Club is a truly worthwhile creation.

SPEIGHT'S DINER

The various joys and frustrations of cooking all are a part of being in Speight's Diner. Students learn through doing and in no time they are whipping up their own culinary classics. Patience is a key with cooking and each member acquires the discipline necessary to produce each dish to its tasty conclusion.

PHILLIPI

One of the freshest clubs to appear at Sandalwood is Phillipi. The non-denominational society is dedicated to concepts of brotherhood and fellowship. By emphasizing the sharing experience among members, Phillipi provides an alternative to the usual teenage activities. One of the bright spots of Phillipi is sponsor Mrs. Lenhart. As a person with great love for her fellow man, she generously gives of her own time to make the Phillipi experience one of great enjoyment.

SAINTS SERVICE CLUB

When good friends get together who share a common love for fun as well as service, it's usually the Saints Service Club. These Junior High Saints have come together and created a trend of genuine concern for working and taking interest in what they want for themselves.

The club participated in activities such as a spirit chain sale, selling Halloween treats, a canned food drive for Thanksgiving and Christmas, helping out with the Valentine's Dance, and a talent show in March. It's clear to see that these students have worked together and served their school well with the avid support of Ms. Lotsey and Ms. Block. The Saints Service Club has reached its potential as a club for all students.

Junior High Student Congress

The Junior High Government thrived this year with one success after another. The Student Congress merged with the class officers to form an effective governing body. Their main goal was to promote cooperation within the school. Members kept busy with activities such as coordinating Homecoming, sponsoring Freshman week, and junior high dances. By assisting the junior high clubs in their endeavors, the student congress members were a unifying force within the school.

Senior High Student Congress

Many of the activities throughout the year have been brought about with the help of Student Congress. Coordinating ideas and creating new ways of student involvement is what Student Congress is all about. Some projects like working for the Cancer Society and having a Thanksgiving dinner for Senior Citizens turned out to be a major success. But the most rewarding experience for the members of Student Congress came during the week of Homecoming and Saints Chant. All the time and work put into projects have paid off through school spirit and participation.

Senior Senate

Senior Senate has had a year full of events to keep themselves busy. Composed of senior class officers, homeroom reps, and senior class leaders, the Senate became the "voice" of the senior class. Planning breakfasts, Grad Nite, and graduation were some of the main focuses. The senior Calendar, which is the only fund raiser for the senior class, was shot on location at the EPCOT Center. The Senate has been a major influence in planning this senior year and it's clear to see that their effort was a job well done.

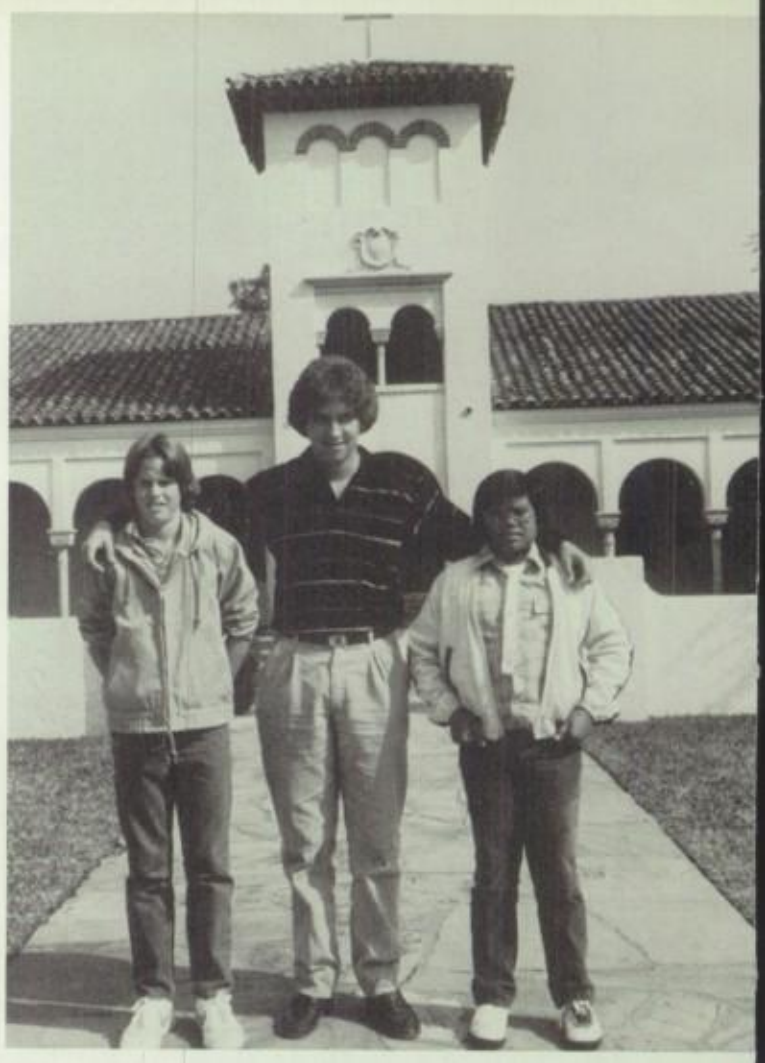
SPANISH HONOR SOCIETY



Excelling in the study of Spanish is the goal of Spanish Honor Society members. As a rule, they maintain an A-B average in their language classes. Club members explore the art, language, and customs of Spanish speaking countries. In addition, language students participate in competition at the Foreign Language Field Day as well as district and state contests. High standards are what motivate and encourage these students to succeed. Bravo!

Young's Designers

Developing sewing skills and creative ability are the goals shared by members of Young's Designers. In this introductory class, Mrs. Young teaches the basic sewing techniques necessary to create beautiful fashions. Her individual instruction makes the class enjoyable as the girls learn an industrious hobby. Their efforts are well worth the hard work when the girls model their creations in various fashion shows.

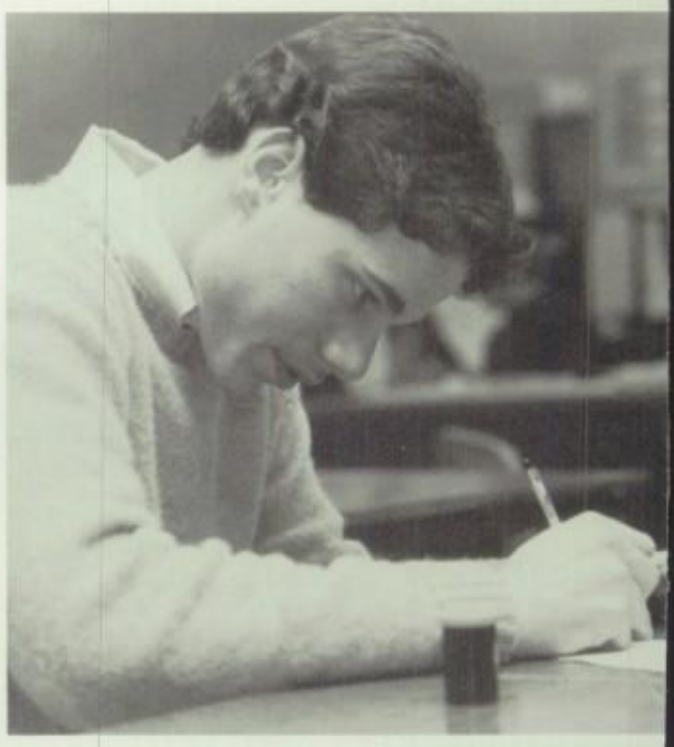
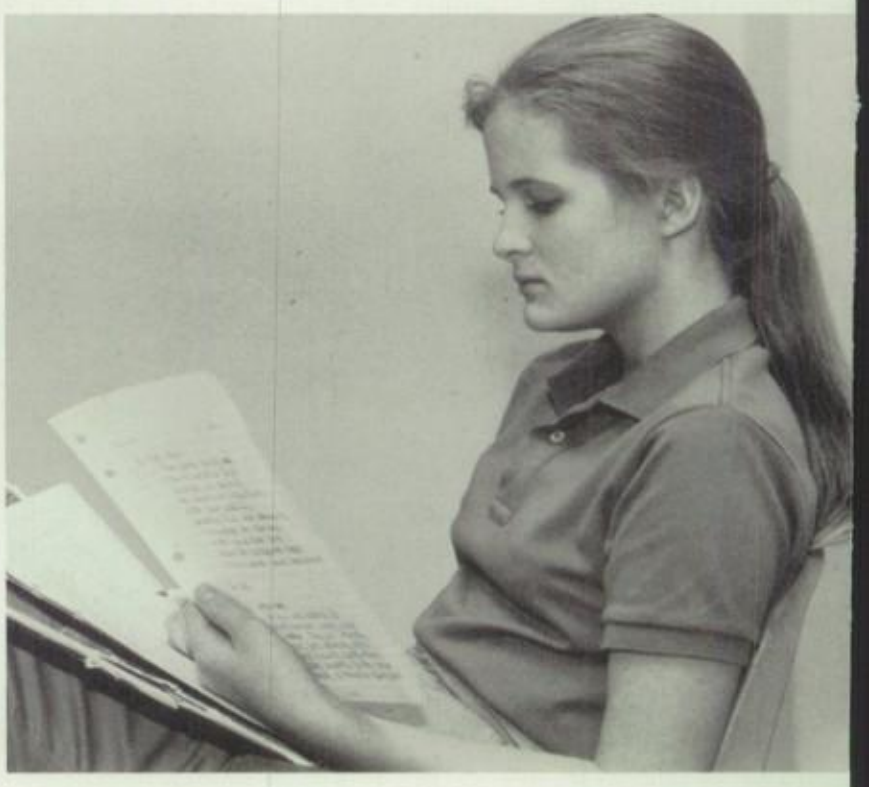
SANDSCRIPT STAFF

When it comes to hard work and something to do every weekend during the school year, you must be talking about the '83 Sandscript Staff. Glamour is not a part of the annual experience. Adventure and warm friendships grow out of the year that the staff spends working together. The responsibility and commitment shared will pay many dividends to staff members throughout their lives.





SENIOR GALLERY

Senior Gallery is a showcase for students who have excelled in their years at Sandalwood. Selected by the faculty, these seniors have made outstanding achievements in the fields of academics, art, athletics, business, drama, home economics, industrial arts, music, vocational education, and service to the school and community. It was, no doubt, difficult to narrow down this year's field to thirty-one seniors. However, those selected richly deserve this honor. Congratulations seniors!

Thirst • Quench/ers. n. — That which satiates a need or hunger. To be used as an outlet for individual expression.

A thirst quencher is something that satisfies a desire. This can take several forms, ranging from individual expression through art or simply from a style of dress. Thirst quenchers can be found at Sandalwood in a number of shapes and sizes. Non-conformity is thrown out the window as many different fads sweep through the halls each new year. Art students find their release through different means. An artistic medium such as pottery or sketching allows for uniquely personal interpretations. A thirst quencher can be as diverse as one's own personal taste. It is whatever springs you from the hum-drum routine of everyday life, something to look forward to after a long arduous school day. Thirst quenchers are a well deserved excuse to gorge yourself in life.

What's in one week and out the next? What's hotter than fire one year and gone in a flash? FADS, those things no one likes to admit to indulging in. But who hasn't said "I had one first" or "I was doing that before anyone." Well this year is no exception, and the Sandalwood student body has seen more than its share come and go. Who can forget them? They ranged from video games to hair styles and from clothing styles to new additions to the teenage vocabulary. How many quarters did you drop into a Pac Man machine? How many times did you see E.T.? How many different colors of leg warmers do you have? Finally, how many times did you utter those memorable words, "HEY NOW!" Some fads seem to endure longer than others. Witness the jean craze, for example, jeans are everywhere you look these days. They come in all forms from the standard Levis to the most expensive designer labels. But along with the jeans must come accessories such as the low-style boots which have enjoyed much success this year. Another lasting craze has been the punk, new wave scene. It has inspired a deluge of diverse and bizarre fashions, and is still going strong. A lot of these fads sound real familiar, don't they? Go ahead and admit it. Fads are an American way of life. They are part of growing up and gaining new experiences, and more than anything else; they are FUN!

Bottom: Shellie, Julie, Laurie. Top: Joanne, Leslie.

Debbie — Hey woman! Thanks for being the best friend and captain anyone could ever want. Love, Shellie. You have been a great captain and have really put forth a lot of dedication. Thanks for being my big sis. Love, Julie. Thanks for always caring and being there! You're a real sweetheart. Love ya, Laurie. The finest example of a captain and a friend! You were always there when needed. I love ya! Love, Joanne. Your leadership and special influence as captain led us to our goal as COUNTY CHAMPIONS and much more! I love you "mom!" Love Always, your duet partner, Leslie.
Missy — This year has really been great and you played a big part in it! Love, Shellie. I'm glad we got to become good friends and I've enjoyed all our talks. Love, Julie. I'm glad we've become close! Thanks for all the fun. Love ya, Laurie. In you I found a true friend. I'll always remember the good times we've shared. Love always, Joanne. You contributed greatly to our winning squad! You're so special. Love always, Leslie.
Kathi — You are someone very special and I'm really going to miss you! Love, Shellie. I still haven't had you get real mad at me — I want to see you yell! Love, Julie. You're a real cutie! Thanks for all the smiles. Love ya, Laurie. You were always the sensible one behind our lemon squeezes! I love ya! Love always, Joanne. Quiet Kathi? You were a unique part of the family. Without you, we would not have been complete. Love always, Leslie.
Angie — Hey Baby! Thanks for always being around when I've needed someone to talk to. Love, Shellie, I'm gonna miss the coke sales with you, but I won't miss the sales. Love, Julie. Thanks for the long talks. You're a bundle of sweetness. Love ya, Laurie. Thanks for always listening and understanding me. I love ya! Joanne. Hey sweetheart! Let the tears come — they always did. You're so crazy and I love ya! Love always, Leslie.
Shantrel — I don't know what we would have done without you! Love always, Shellie. I've kidded you a lot about everything but you know I love ya! Love, Julie. What time is it?? The games wouldn't be the same without you. You're a trip! Love ya, Laurie. OOZE! You always make everything so much easier with your smiles! Love always, Joanne. Black Beauty — This year would not have been the same without your sweet smile and bubbly personality. OOZE baby! Love you, Leslie.
Loraine — We had a few rough times but I'm glad to say that we worked them out! Love, Shellie. As many times that I've been called Loraine, I'm glad you're leaving! One of us needed to get our hair cut! Love always, Julie, You're a great cheerleader and a sweet girl! Love, Laurie. You're a great cheerleader and one I'll always look up to. Love, always, Joanne. I'm not going to squeeze you Knauer — I love you sweetie! A very special friendship came from a very special friend. Love, Leslie.
Kristy — It's been great cheering with you — you are a trip! Love ya, Shellie! Remember rooming at camp? You talked in your sleep! Love ya, Julie, You're great to cheer with! You keep me laughing! Love, Laurie. You're a special friend. I love ya! Love always, Joanne. Thank you for all the good times. Oh no — my back! Love always, Leslie.

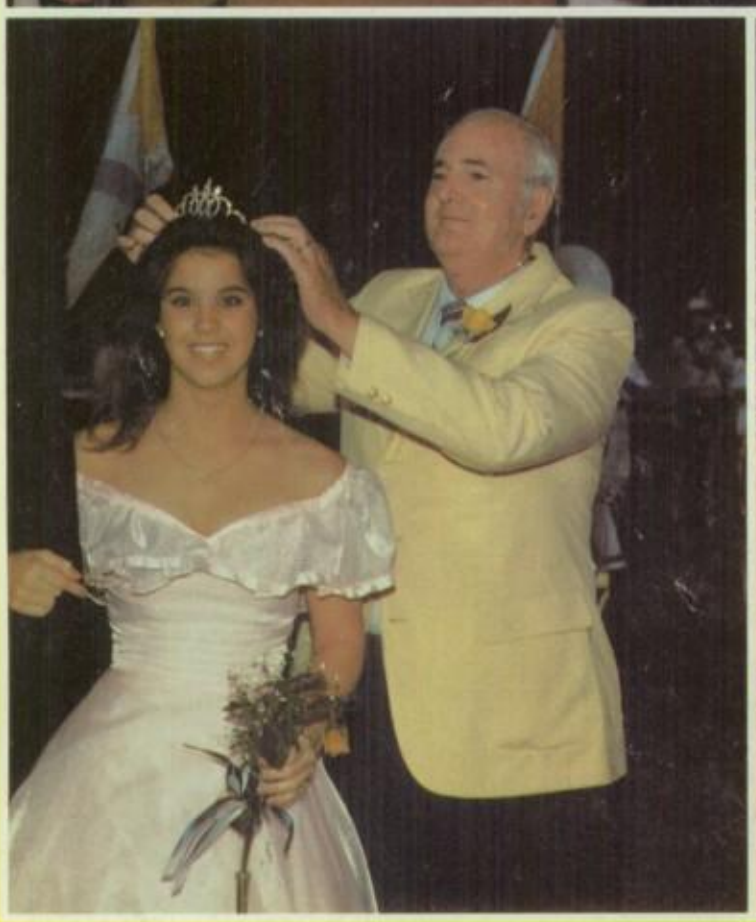
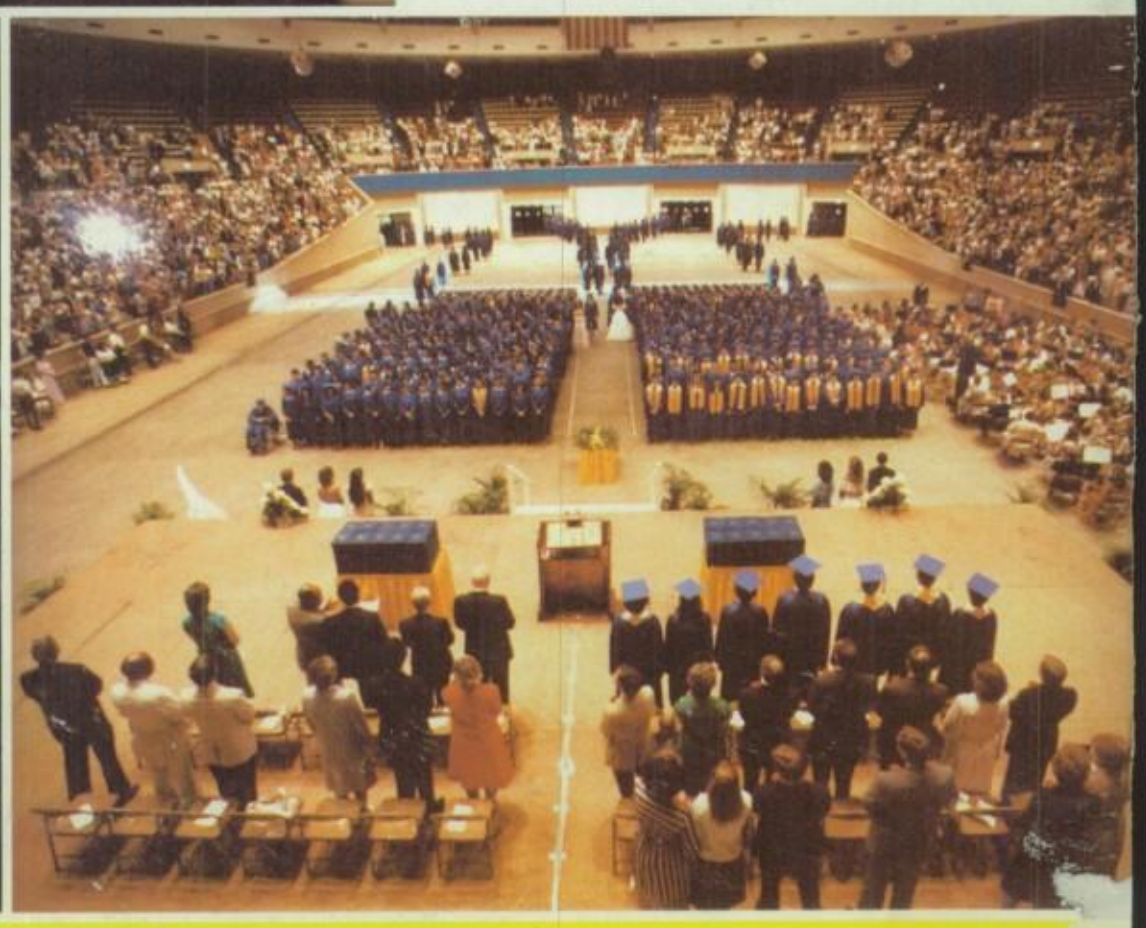
Homemade Just for You

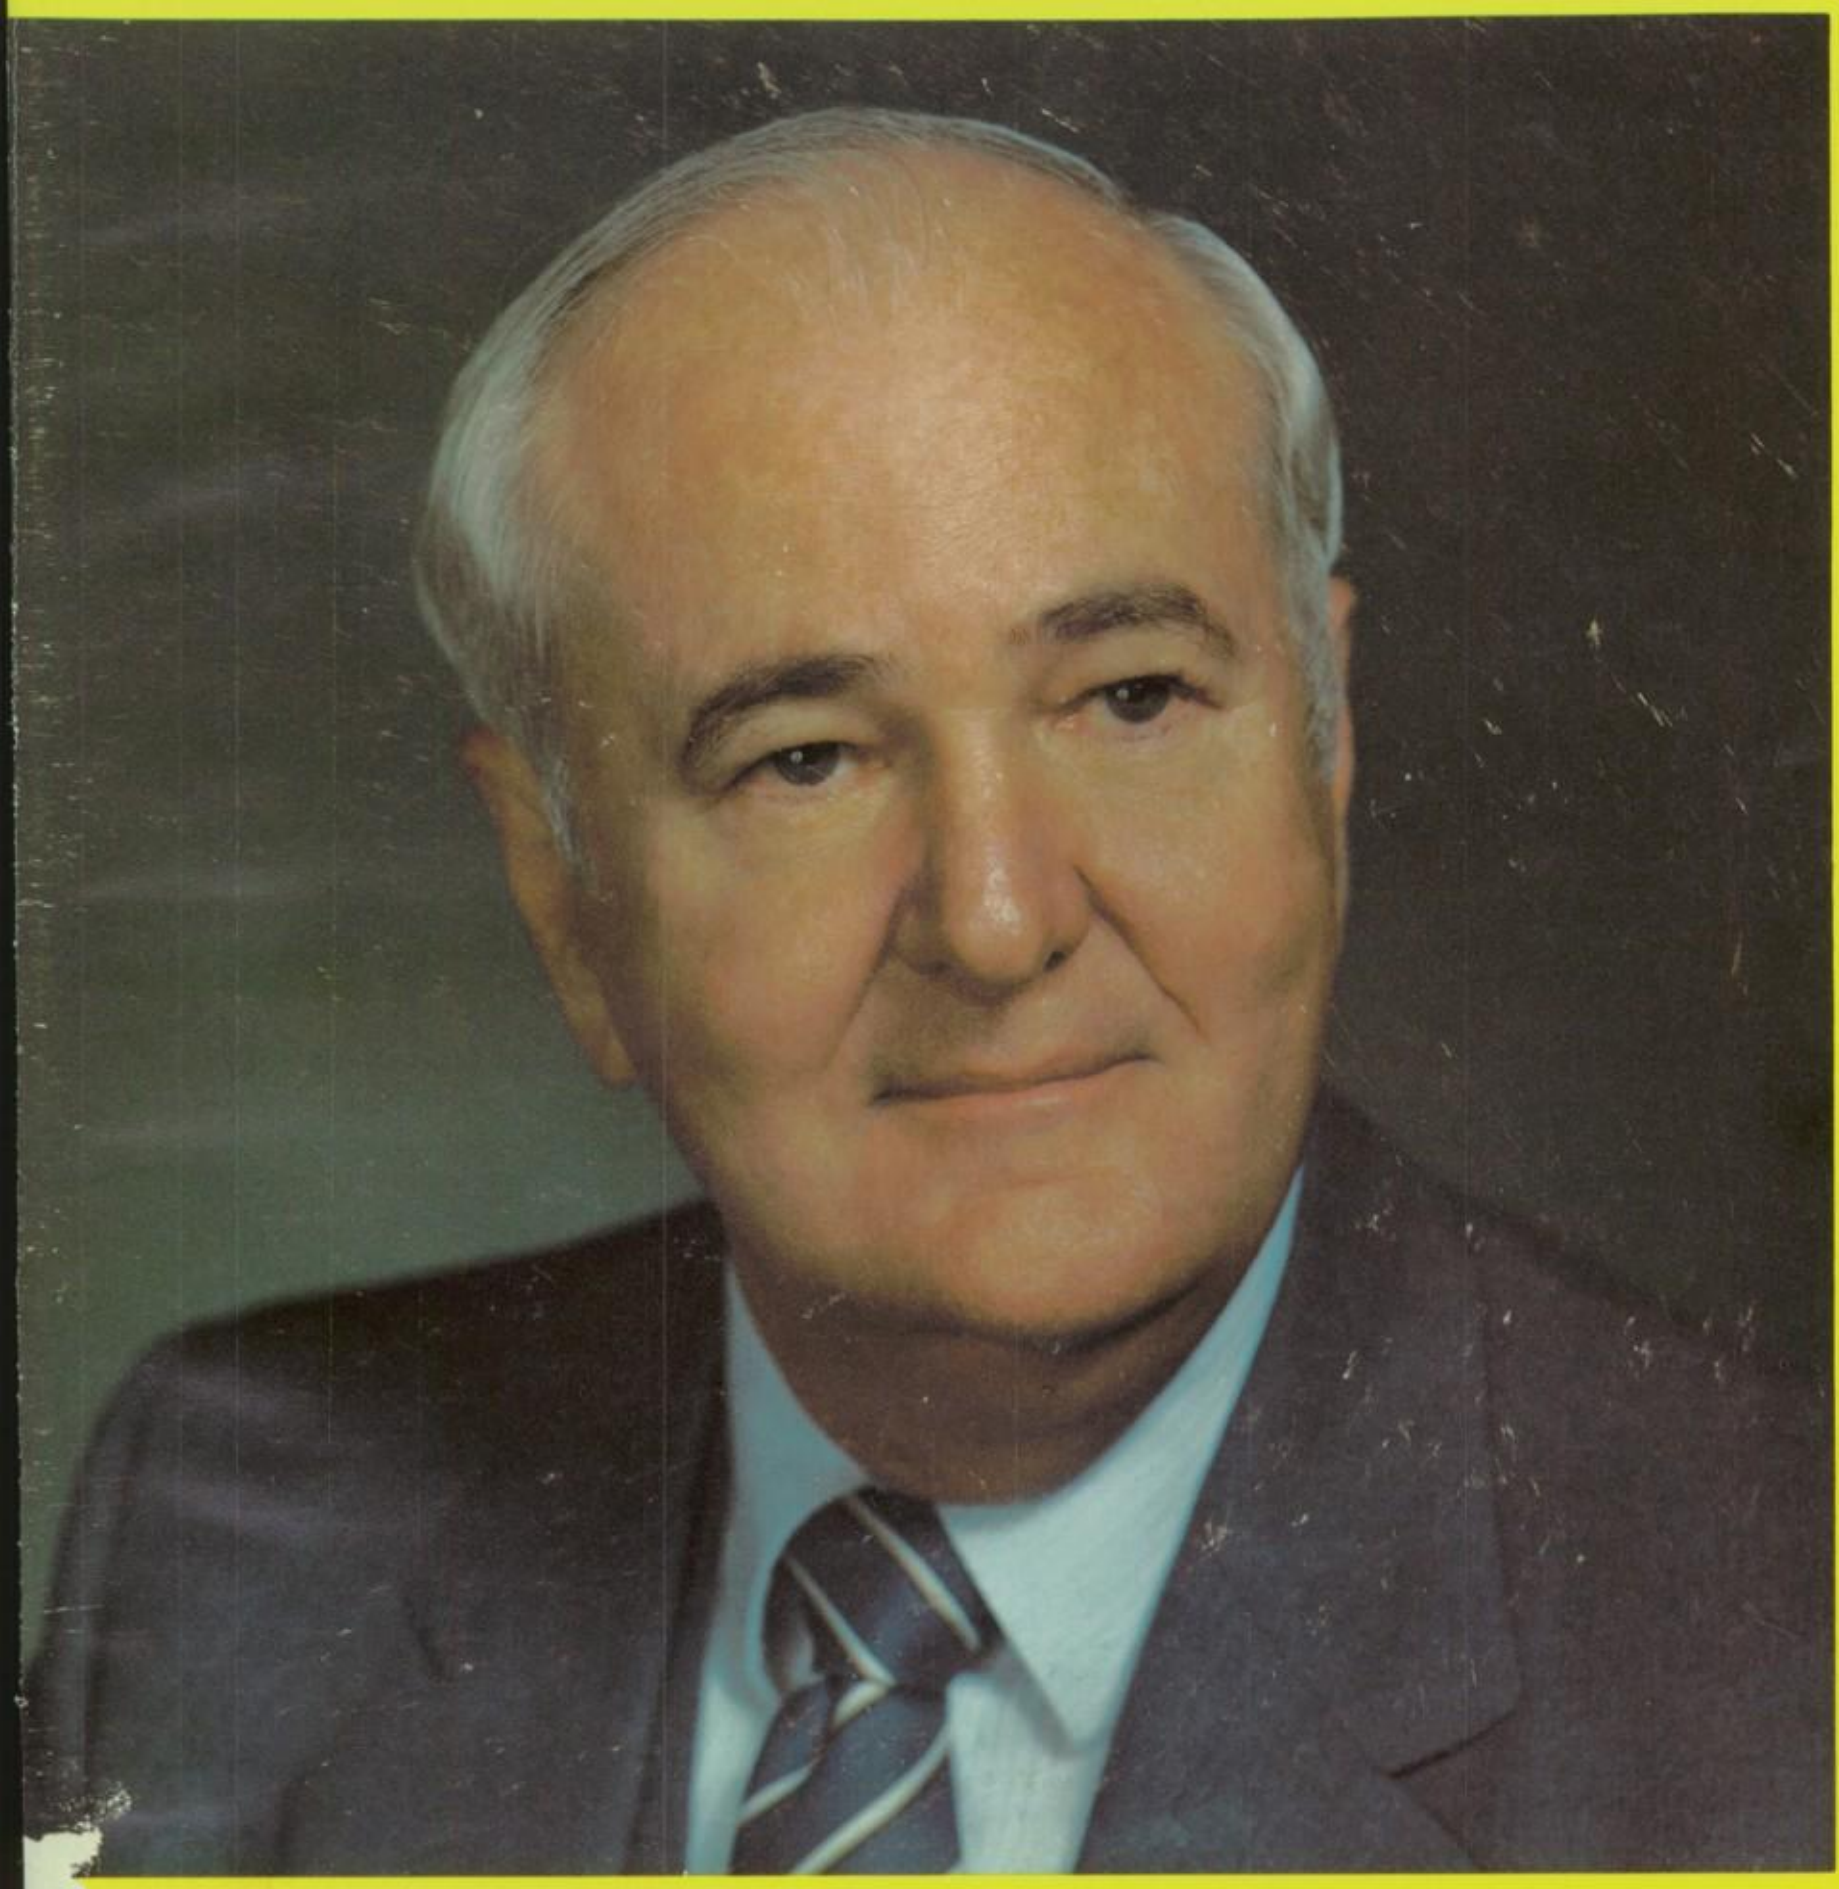
As soon as the school year begins, time has a way of getting away from us, and so it has been this year. Graduation day is around the corner. For some the year signifies advancement, for others it means new frontiers to explore. New friends are part of our tomorrows as are warm memories of our yesterdays.

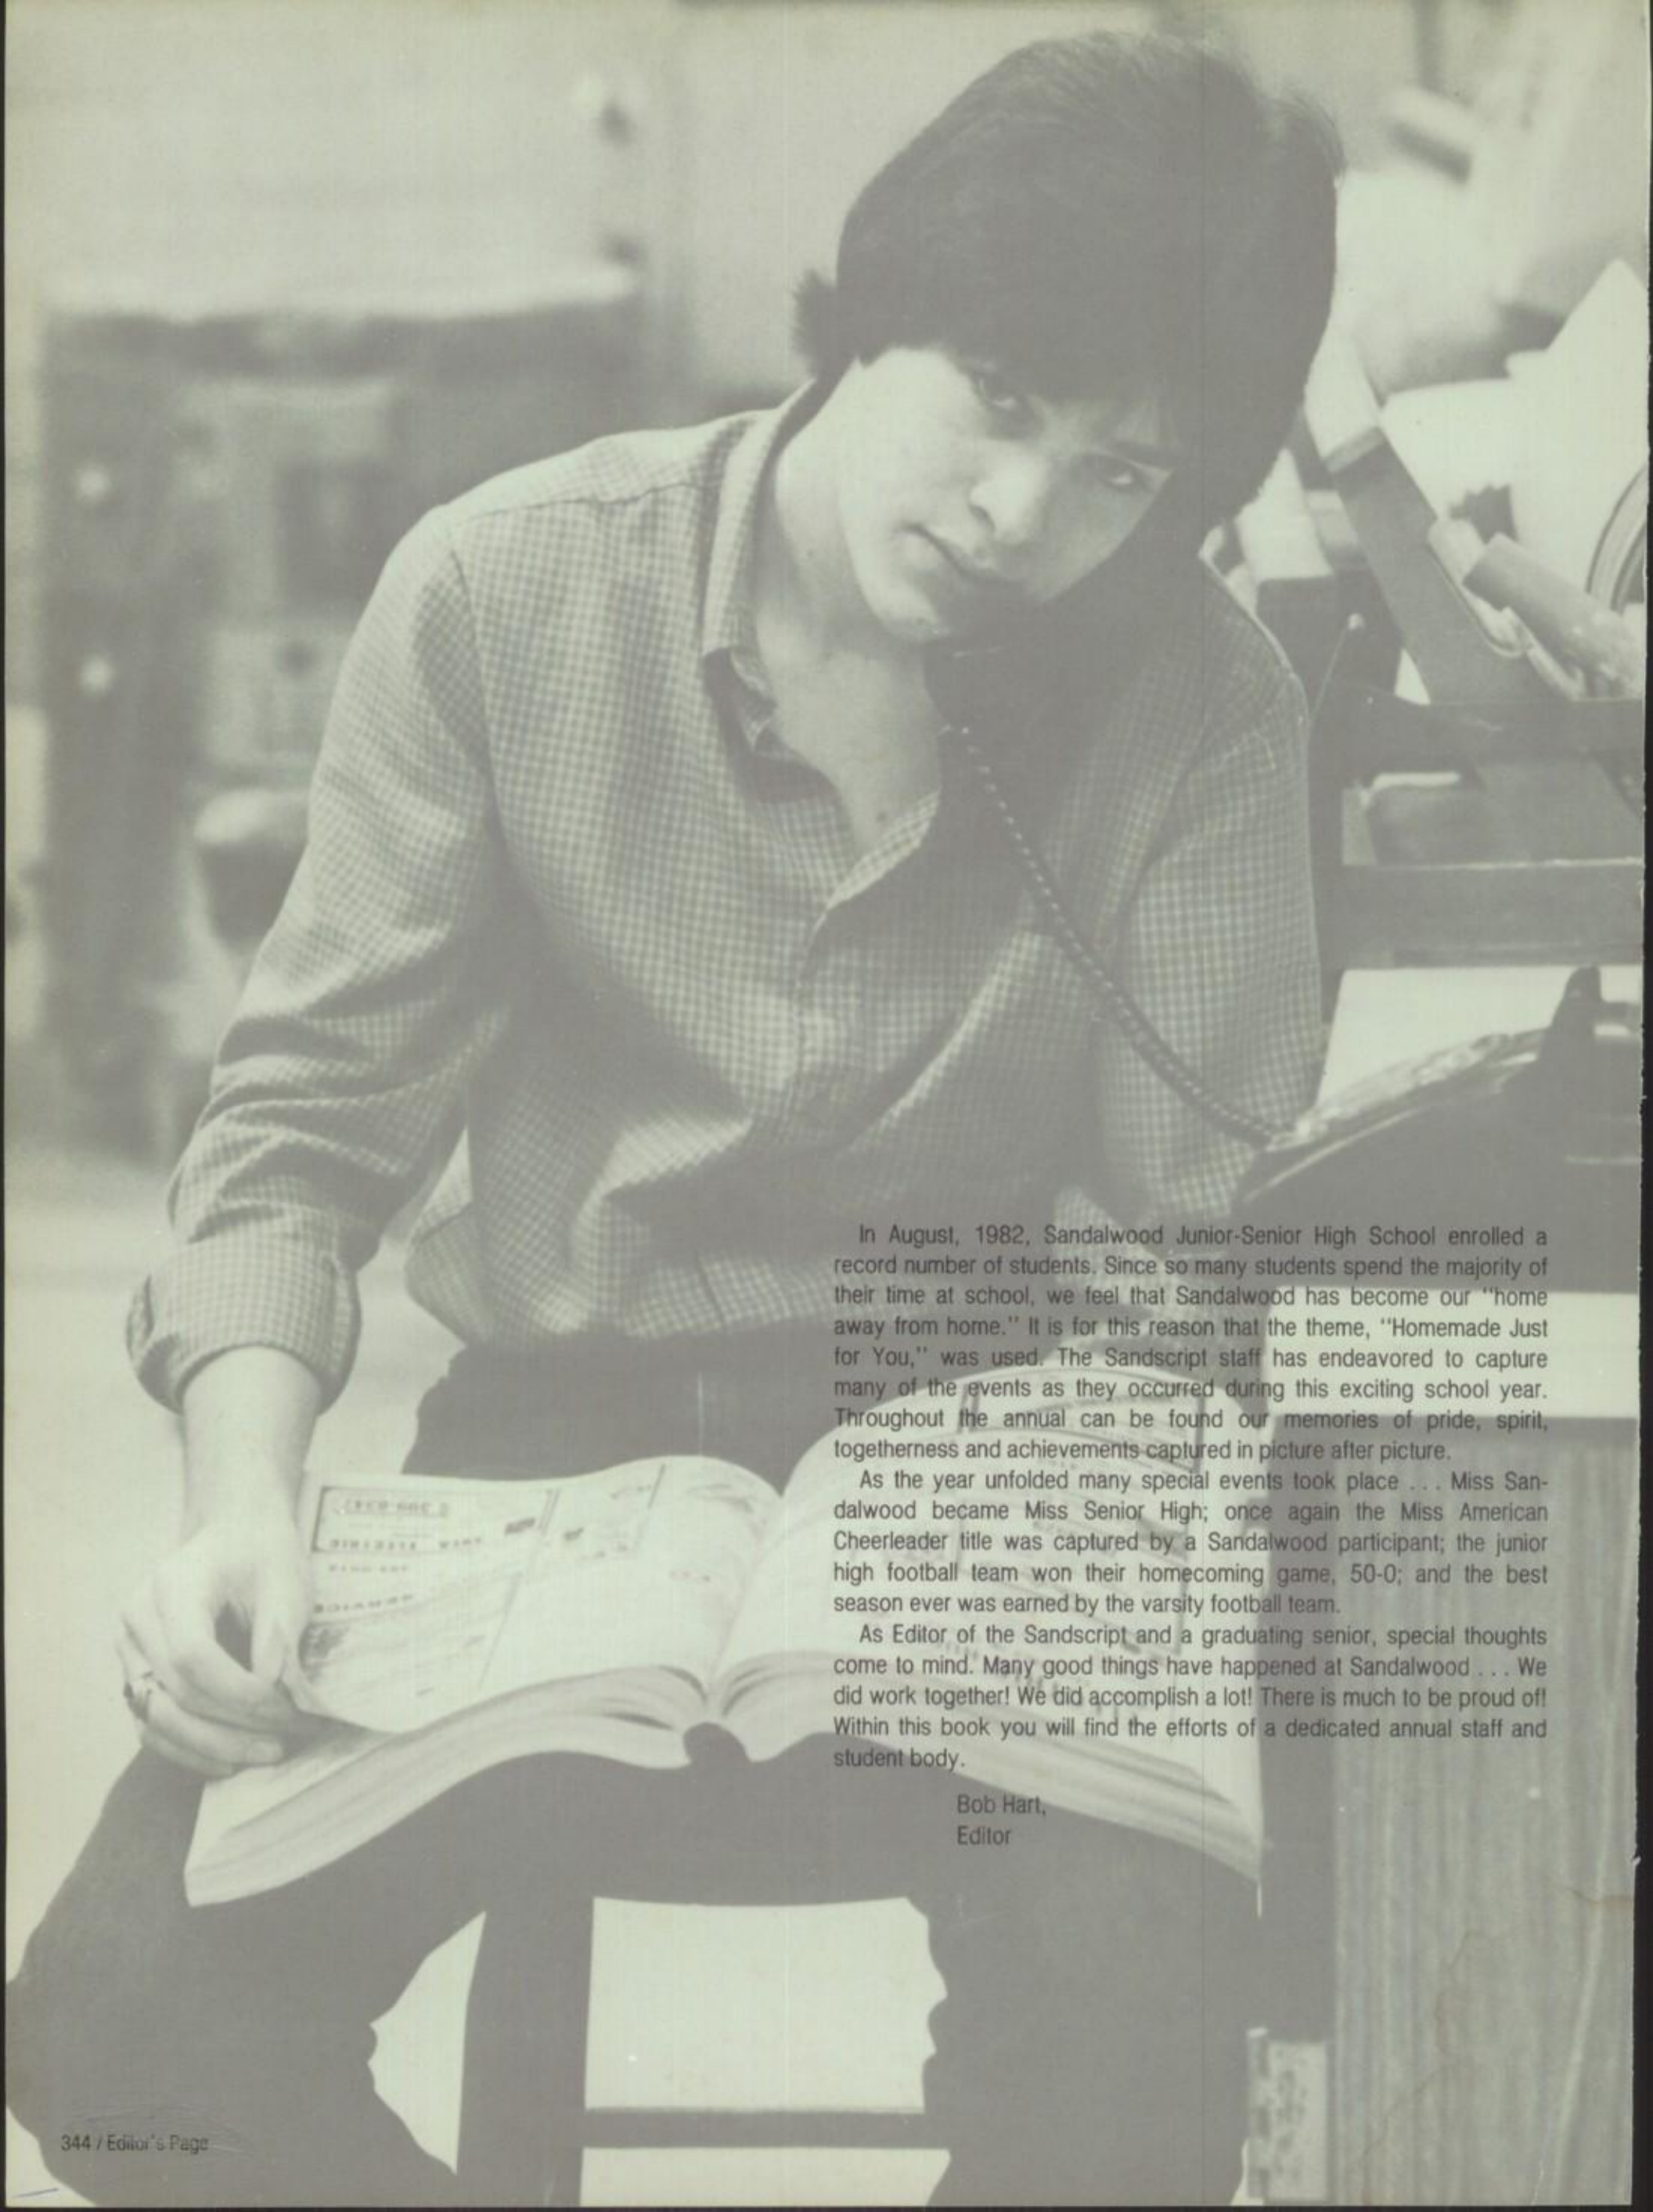
In closing out this year's Sandscript, it is especially fitting that we give a special thank you to James Roberts, our senior high principal, on the occasion of his thirty years of service to the public schools in Duval County. Sandalwood in particular has been the recipient of his leadership and concern. The Sandscript and Mr. Roberts are old friends. His support of this publication has been overwhelming.

Sandalwood's spirit is at an all time high, and we are no longer just another school in Duval County. Sandalwood is the high school in Duval County which other schools use as a model. A large part of this recognition has been the dream of Mr. Roberts . . . a dream now being realized. Thank you again, Mr. Roberts!









In August, 1982, Sandalwood Junior-Senior High School enrolled a record number of students. Since so many students spend the majority of their time at school, we feel that Sandalwood has become our "home away from home." It is for this reason that the theme, "Homemade Just for You," was used. The Sandscript staff has endeavored to capture many of the events as they occurred during this exciting school year. Throughout the annual can be found our memories of pride, spirit, togetherness and achievements captured in picture after picture.

As the year unfolded many special events took place . . . Miss Sandalwood became Miss Senior High; once again the Miss American Cheerleader title was captured by a Sandalwood participant; the junior high football team won their homecoming game, 50-0; and the best season ever was earned by the varsity football team.

As Editor of the Sandscript and a graduating senior, special thoughts come to mind. Many good things have happened at Sandalwood . . . We did work together! We did accomplish a lot! There is much to be proud of! Within this book you will find the efforts of a dedicated annual staff and student body.

Bob Hart,
Editor

Look what's cookin'
The Sandalwood special.
Add one cup of blue to one cup of gold.
Pour five cups of spirit, three of hard work,
A dash of ambition, then let that cook.
After a minute, remove from heat.
Add homework to flavor
Then lightly beat.
Top with a sprinkle of friends
Before you're through.
You now have a Saint
Homemade just for you!
